

Claims Dio Received Cash to Leave Union

Ex-Official States Price Was Boosted

Lawyer Says He Had Been Leading Fight To Oust Racketeer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former official of the old United Auto Workers Union-AFL testified today racketeer Johnny (Dio) Dioguardia demanded $10,000 as his price for quitting the union, but actually secretly received $16,000.

Morris Weintraub, now a South Newport, Ky., lawyer, said he had been leading a fight to fire Dio from the UAW, and felt at the time it was worth $10,000 "if we could get rid of him lock, stock and barrel"—and if, as Dio contended, the racketeer actually had spent that much out of his own pocket for union organizational efforts.

Weintraub told the Senate Rackets Committee he didn't know, until he heard it recently from committee investigators, that he amount paid was $16,000, not the $10,000 he and others understood was being paid.

Dio had invoked the Fifth Amendment, pleading an answer might incriminate him, when asked yesterday to tell the committee why he received the $16,000.

Dio also invoked the Fifth Amendment on 139 other questions including whether he had any ties with James R. Hoffa, Midwest boss of the Teamsters Union. The committee contends Dio and Hoffa worked hand in glove in deals that enhanced Hoffa's union power and enriched Dio.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said another witness who would be questioned about the matter is Earl Heaton, retiring president of the Allied Industrial Workers. This is a new name that was taken by the old AFL-UAW.

Dio invoked the Fifth Amendment 140 times as a witness yesterday. He refused to answer questions about his labor union connections and alleged "close friendship" with Midwest Teamster boss James R. Hoffa, the man expected to succeed Dave Beck as Teamsters president.

Among matters that Dio refused to talk about was a $16,000 check given him by the UAW-AFL in September 1954 and signed by Anthony Doria, then the UAW-AFL's secretary-treasurer.

Doria, who was involved in a Senate investigation of labor union welfare fund scandals a few years ago, recently quit as the AIW's secretary-treasurer. Kennedy said Doria was paid some $80,000 for stepping out.

When Dio refused to acknowledge his signature on the $16,000 check, Kennedy said Doria had explained it as repayment of money Dio had "invested" in UAW-AFL Local 102.

That is the local, Kennedy said, in which Dio collected hoodlums and later switched them into a batch of specially created Teamsters Union locals to rig the election of a Hoffa-picked man to the top Teamsters spot in the key New York area.

Kennedy said Dio told a secret Senate committee hearing last year he never helped finance UAW Local 102. This statement apparently conflicted with Doria's reported explanation. Dio offered no help in clearing this up.

DIO THROWS ONE—United Press staff photographer Stanley Tretick made this picture of hoodlum Johnny Dio moments before Dio clipped him on the ear and called him a profane name. Dio was fired when Tretick sought to photograph him in the Senate Office Building in Washington. (NEA Telephoto)

Fayette Mayor Gets Invitation to France

FAYETTE, Mo. (AP)—Mayor Roy Skillman will be among the guests of the French government Sept. 6-11.

That is the 200th anniversary of the Marquis de LaFayette. Mayors of 35 towns and cities in the United States named in honor of the French patriot have been invited to be guests of France on an expense-paid trip.

40 Americans Plan Visit To Red China

MOSCOW (AP)—About 40 American delegates to the Communist-sponsored World Youth Festival today accepted an invitation to visit Red China, and at least one appeared to be on the verge of defecting to the Soviet Union.

There is a State Department ban on travel to Communist China.

The man reported to be planning defection was described by a dependable source to be a veteran of World War II in his early 30s. He may already have taken the initial steps. His name was not immediately divulged.

The American has not been seen in the U. S. delegation's hotel for more than two days. Several of his friends said he was in an infirmity with gripe and no one could see him.

Two other American delegates told other Americans they were thinking of staying here for "study" when the festival ends Sunday.

Fifteen Americans, including eight members of the group's administrative committee, will make the three-week trip as non-paying guests of the Peiping government.

The others will be asked to pay a token $100 each for transportation to and from China and for all expenses of their tour.

They are expected to leave shortly after the windup of the Moscow festival, scheduled for this weekend.

Russian Spy Is Arraigned In US Court

Brought on Charges Which Could Result In His Execution

NEW YORK (AP)—With all the calmness of a man resigned to fate, accused master Russian spy Rudolph Ivanovich Abel was arraigned in U. S. District Court in Brooklyn today on charges which could bring his execution. A plea of innocent was entered for him by the court.

Abel, looking somewhat haggard and disheveled in dress, was held without bail when arraigned before U. S. Dist. Judge Matthew T. Abruzzo.

The judge inquired whether Abel had obtained a lawyer and Abel said he had not.

Asked how long it would take him to get one, Abel replied: "I really don't know."

Abel said he would like to be given time to secure an attorney before further proceedings and the judge complied. The judge then set a hearing in the case for Aug. 13.

Abel, alleged to be a colonel of the Soviet secret police, was indicted by a Brooklyn grand jury on charges he headed a Russian spy ring sending U. S. military and atomic secrets to his homeland.

The 55-year-old prisoner appeared in unpressed clothes for his arraignment and obviously was in need of a haircut. His face showed a slight shadow of a beard. He was baggy eyed and spoke in soft tones, with a rather deep voice and a trace of a foreign accent.

While he obviously was under some tension, he kept his hands clasped in front of him as he stood before the judge's bench and gave his answers to the judge's questions in a calm tone.

Asst. U. S. Atty. William F. Tompkins, addressing the judge when the matter of possible bail was raised, described Abel as the head "of a most elaborate and intricate espionage" ring.

Cooler Weather Headed For State

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A little cooler weather is headed for Missouri. The weatherman says it will be cooler in the extreme northwest tonight and in the northwest and west-central Saturday with highs in the 80s northwest and in the 90s elsewhere.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms are forecast for the north tonight and in the extreme northeast Saturday.

For the next five days the Weather Bureau sees temperatures only slightly above seasonal normals.

Kansas City and St. Joseph had the state's top temperature, 95, Thursday. Kirksville had an 88 for the minimum high.

Rayburn Calls for Bill Okay

Leaves Way Open For a Compromise On Jury Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker Rayburn of Texas called today for House acceptance of the Senate civil rights bill. He said, however, that he would be agreeable "if necessary" to a compromise narrowing the controversial jury trial provision.

At the same time, House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts again demanded defeat of the Senate jury trial bill. Martin made public a letter from Deputy Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers asserting it would cut in on the authority of all federal courts.

Backstage House moves, meantime, were directed at a compromise solution which would limit jury trials only to criminal contempt cases involving voting rights. Rayburn's stated willingness to accept that solution strengthened its prospects.

The House originally passed a bill allowing the Justice Department to move in on court enforcement for civil rights generally. It made no provision for jury trials in contempt cases growing out of violations of judges' orders.

The Senate cut the Justice Department authorization down to voting rights cases. It also wrote in a requirement for jury trials in criminal contempt cases. Government lawyers say the language is so broad it would require juries not only in civil rights cases but in contempt actions under a great variety of federal laws including antitrust and labor statutes.

Criminal contempt generally covers cases in which a court undertakes to punish for failure to comply with an order, as distinguished from civil contempt in which a person may be jailed until he does comply.

Hardly had Rayburn made his position known at his morning news conference than Martin declared the Senate bill "would defeat the purpose of the President to assure the voting rights of all Americans."

Nine Bombs Explode In Cuban Capital

HAVANA (AP)—At least nine bombs went off in this uneasy Cuban capital last night. Five persons were injured by two explosions in small movie houses.

A Molotov cocktail, a homemade type bomb, caused a fire when thrown against a textile warehouse and injured a woman.

The army said four rebels were killed in a clash with forces of insurgent leader Fidel Castro between Peradero and Cubita on the eastern end of the island. Several other encounters with small groups of rebels in the area were reported.

A communique released last night said more than 100 persons were arrested in connection with sabotage.

Relief on Way

That sun was plenty warm today, but the weatherman assures us that another cool spell is heading this way over the weekend.

Clear to partly cloudy and continued hot tonight; a little cooler Saturday with the possibility of a few scattered thunderstorms; low tonight near 70; high Saturday in upper 80s.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 72, 94 at 1 p. m., and 95 at 2 p. m. Low Thursday night 69.

The temperature one year ago today, high 97, low 64, with .88 inch of rain; two years ago, high 86, low 63; and three years ago, high 87, and low 62.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks 58.8 steady.

Effective Oct. 15

State Truck Rates Going Up $1 Million; More Carriers

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri truck rates are going up more than $1 million a year under a State Public Service Commission order issued today.

The overall increase for about 210 common carriers hauling freight within the state amounts to about 13 per cent. The PSC estimated the increases, effective Oct. 15 will mean about $900,000 more revenue a year for the big Class A carriers and about $250,000 more a year for the smaller Class B and C carriers.

Minimum shipment charges also will go up about 13 per cent. And the order makes permanent a temporary charge imposed in 1955, allowing truckers to increase their basic rate on shipments of less than 2,000 pounds by 20 cents per 100 pounds.

For less than carload shipments, the truckers had sought a 29 per cent increase for hauls under 85 miles and 19 per cent for trips over that distance. The PSC said that would be excessive. Instead it allowed an increase of about 22 per cent for short hauls under 85 miles and about 13 per cent over that.

Truckers said the increases were necessary to meet increased operating costs, especially the higher labor costs going into effect under the current contracts that require outstate employees to be paid the same rates as those in Kansas City and St. Louis.

The said fringe benefits have added about 16 per cent to their labor costs in recent years with the result that labor now makes half or more than half of their operating expenses.

The commission said the new rates should offset the increased costs and provide a reasonable margin of profit without penalizing anyone.

The new order consolidates all previous truck rate orders and puts into effect a new method of rate making. George G. Fox, chief rate expert for the PSC, said that in the long run the new rate method might prove to be the most important part of today's action.

AEC Near Showdown In the House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A public power versus private power fight neared a showdown in the House today over a $389,145,000 Atomic Energy Commission construction bill.

The controversy centers around a provision authorizing the commission to spend 58 million dollars to build three atomic reactors at AEC installations in Idaho and Washington state, and to provide with construction of atomic power plants for cooperative or public power groups.

Over other provisions in the bill there was little or no controversy. The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, which wrote the bill, split over its provisions, with a group of GOP members filing a minority report assailing the bill as "public power advocacy run rampant."

Democrats backing the measure contend the 58 million dollars for reactors is necessary to provide impetus for the U. S. atomic power program. The program, they contend, is not making adequate headway and this country "could lose its leadership in the world in this field."

Storm Bertha Moves Closer To Coastline

Louisiana Coast Threatened Same Place As Audrey

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Tropical storm Bertha moved closer to land early today with squalls and winds buffeting the Louisiana coast now braced for the onslaught of the season's second hurricane.

The Weather Bureau's bulletin at 7 a. m. placed the storm 160 miles southeast of Lake Charles, La., raked by Hurricane Audrey six weeks ago in a storm that claimed more than 500 lives.

The bulletin said the storm probably would reach hurricane force today. Winds accompanying the storm now are estimated at 65 m.p.h. in squalls extending out 100 miles from the center.

The storm was expected to continue moving between west and northwest 10 to 12 m.p.h., aimed in the general direction of the Louisiana-Texas border. The bulletin said tides were rising along the east and central Louisiana coasts.

Residents of the Cameron Parish area, which took the full force of Hurricane Audrey six weeks ago, evacuated last night and residents of other low coastal areas joined in the flight for higher and safer ground.

Hawaiian Maneuvers Reaches a Climax

HONOLULU (AP)—A weeklong amphibious maneuver involving 12,000 Marines and sailors in Hawaiian waters reaches a climax tomorrow with an air-sea invasion of the Garden Island, Kauai.

Some 7,000 Marines of the 1st Brigade and 5,000 Navy men are engaged in the military exercise.

Jack Soble Will Learn Fate Later

No Reason Is Given For Sentence Delay; Defendants Shocked

NEW YORK (AP)—Jacob Albam, 64, a former Brooklyn tea and spice dealer, and Mrs. Myra Soble, 52, were sentenced to 5½ years in prison each today for spying for the Soviet Union.

Her husband, Jack, 54, a third member of the espionage ring was to be sentenced later. He was not in court.

All three had pleaded guilty.

Albam and Mrs. Soble appeared shocked when Federal District Judge Richard H. Levett pronounced the sentences.

Throughout the preliminaries, the blonde Mrs. Soble wept softly. Albam bespectacled and balding, had stared nervously at the floor, walls and the ceiling.

The reason for not sentencing Soble immediately was not disclosed.

Courtroom spectators were tense as Mrs. Soble and Albam entered the room. She was wearing a gray, herring-bone patterned cotton dress and nervously fingered a handkerchief.

Pacing a corridor outside the courtroom was the Sobles' 17-year-old son, Lawrence, who repeatedly has expressed faith in his parents.

At the time of their arrest last January he said he was "more than 900 per cent certain" they were not spies. After they pleaded guilty last April, the youth said: "Whatever they did it was to protect the lives of my grandparents or other innocent persons."

The Sobles and Albam all came to the United States as European refugees.

'Federal Highways' Only Those Marked 'U.S.' for Speed Law

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—So far as Missouri's new speed law is concerned, the words "federal highway" mean only those highways marked as U. S. routes.

They do not mean any of the hundreds of minor roads on which federal funds have been used. That was the interpretation today of Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton in an opinion for Co. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the Missouri Highway Patrol. It will be the patrol's tough job to enforce the new speed law when it goes into effect Aug. 29.

Under the new law, the speed limit on undivided federal highways will be 70 miles an hour, day or night. On undivided federal highways it will be 70 in the daytime, 65 at night. And on all other roads and highways it will be 65 in the daytime, 60 at night.

Today's opinion said it was clear that the Legislature, in using the term "federal highway," meant only the U. S. routes which are part of the state highway system. That is the common understanding of the term, the opinion said, and that is also the way the State Highway Department interprets it.

Veterinarians Say New Cholera Kills Hogs in the Bootheel

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP)—Several hundred hogs are dead in this area, and two veterinarians reported a new type of hog cholera was one of the killers.

A. D. Arnhart, Cape Girardeau county agent, said yesterday he knew of 400 head of hogs that have died in the county in recent weeks. Hogs in adjoining counties also have been affected. Gus Weikend, a farmer living near Jackson, has lost 78 head.

Veterinarians were not in agreement as to the cause of the trouble. One reported erysipelas was more rampant than the variant strain of cholera among the diseased animals. Another said he had sent tissues from hogs on six farms to a laboratory and there was no indication of cholera.

The usual hog cholera is almost always fatal but the variety reported in this area was said to kill only part of the stricken hogs. It also was reported to have affected animals inoculated against the typical cholera.

Part of the hog diseases were attributed to the wet weather this year, with disease-bearing insects breeding more rapidly. "You always have more hog disease during wet years than in dry years," one veterinarian said.

22-Month Son Stabs Father Critically

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A young father is in critical condition today from a wound police say was given him by a steak knife in the hands of his 22-month-old son.

State Police Cpl. Jonah Reese said the father, Thomas Norris, 20, New Philadelphia, told him he was playing on the living room sofa with his boy when Thomas Jr. plunged the six-inch steak knife three inches into his chest near the heart.

Norris told Reese he had left the knife under the sofa after using it to fix the television set. He said he had no idea the child had found the knife until the youngster stabbed him.

Eulogized by Eugene Field

Missourian Was First Press Man to Interview President

This Irish-born Missourian who rose to fame as a popular Civil War correspondent, the first Washington correspondent to obtain a formal interview with the President of the United States, and the first managing editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, was eulogized by Eugene Field, the Missouri poet and journalist, in the poem, "Little Mack." Do you know his name?

1. How did he get his start as a journalist?

A. Born in Dublin, Ireland, in 1842, one of a family of sixteen children, at the age of eleven he left home, working his way to New York as a cabin boy. After serving as printer's apprentice on the New York Freeman's Journal, he came to St. Louis in 1858 and worked as a compositor for the Christian Advocate. Proficient in shorthand, the next year he was hired as a reporter for the Missouri Democrat where his coverage of the proceedings of the 1859-60 Missouri General Assembly was outstanding. In 1860 he became a reporter for the Cincinnati Gazette.

2. How did he gain fame during the Civil War?

A. He first served in the army in the Civil War, but in 1861 he was hired as a war correspondent for the Gazette. When the Gazette refused to publish his report of the first day's fighting at Shiloh, discrediting the conduct of the Union Forces, he resigned, but was hired immediately by the Cincinnati Commercial at twice his salary. He made the Commercial the soldiers' paper and quotations from his letters were circulated in all sections.

The salaries range from $3,670 to $5,440 per year depending on training and experience; no written examination is required. There are also vacancies for stenographers; starting salary $2,960 per year, for which an examination is required.

Call or see Mr. Maxwell, CAA Recruitment Officer, at the State Employment Office, 500 1/2 South Ohio, on Aug. 8 (1 to 5 p.m.) and Aug. 9 (8 to 5 p.m.). Evening interviews will be arranged by appointment.

3. When did he become a Washington correspondent?

A. As Washington correspondent for the Commercial from 1863 to 1868, his letters over the signature "Mack" attracted nation-wide attention. His interviews with Alexander H. Stephens, vice-president of the Confederacy, and with President Andrew Johnson in 1867-68 created a sensation.

4. What was his career as a newspaper editor?

A. In 1868 he became editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer but within a few months moved to Chicago to help found the Republican. After he lost his newspaper, library, and savings in the fire of 1871, he returned to St. Louis as editor of the Democrat. He left the Democrat in 1873 to become editor of the Globe and when the two papers were combined in 1875, he was managing editor of the Globe-Democrat until his death in St. Louis from a fall out of his bedroom window during an illness in 1896. He had never married.

5. How did he contribute to the success of the Globe-Democrat?

A. He carefully trained hundreds of correspondents in many states and soon the Globe-Democrat led all newspapers in the country outside New York City in the cost of its news service. In 1883 he wrote, "The great art of running a newspaper is the art of guessing where hell is liable to break loose next." With caustic wit, in "paragraphs pointed as a tack," he ruthlessly exposed local and national political corruption in crusades for reform. Soon his newspaper gained readers from all political parties, although it was strongly Republican, and within three years showed a profit of $90,000.

6. How was he regarded by his associates?

A. Although brusque in manner, he was popular with his associates. It was said that he possessed the rare journalistic instinct of knowing what the public wanted, and he spared no expense to give it to them.

7. What was his name?

A. Joseph B. McCullagh.

Rancher Wins Right to Stay

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (P)—Pioneer rancher John Prather has received from a federal court the right to live out his life on a 15-acre tract from which the Army sought to evict him.

Prather isn't happy about his partial victory over the Army yesterday. He wants all of his 27,000-acre ranch—now part of a missile range—and he wants title to it. "I have not gone back on my promise to keep this ranch for my children," the 82-year-old rancher said. "I want this land for them when I die. I shall continue my fight to keep it from military possession."

Asst. U.S. Atty. Joseph R. McNeany said Prather still does not have title even to the 15 acres adjoining a missile range. It would be possible for the military to seek another eviction proceeding through the courts, but the Army has conceded it won't. Instead, it will harness its missiles so Prather won't be endangered. Edward A. Bacon, deputy assistant secretary of the Army, wrote Sen. Clinton Anderson (D-Mo.) the Prather ranch buildings and the 15 acres are still required to obtain maximum use of the McGregor missile range.

Bacon said the Army "will have to reduce the width of the impact area about 1½ miles" to allow Prather to live out his days in the ranch home he built more than 50 years ago. Bacon told Anderson he hoped "that this humanitarian action . . . will redound to the best interests of the government."

Prather and other ranchers in the area lost title to their lands when a "declaration of taking" was filed by the Army March 15 in a move to expand the McGregor missile training range.

Prather said his battle is far from over. He offered to "give them any kind of lease they want for the use of my land, and I'll waive responsibility for any damage they might create."

The federal court order, handed down by U.S. Dist. Judge Waldo Rogers, was an amended order of possession and a partial suspension of a writ of assistance issued earlier this week.

The original writ ordered the U.S. marshal in Albuquerque to put Prather from the ranch, by force, if necessary. Three deputy U.S. marshals went to the armed and stubborn Prather and returned him empty handed.

The aged cattleman offered to settle the dispute in the old Western way. He suggested to one of the three deputy marshals that they each take a gun, step back, draw and fire. None of the marshals accepted Prather's order.

The new order grants Prather the right to live on the 15 acres which contain his ranch house and access to a road connecting the ranch home on the missile range to other ranch land outside the range.

Commander Makes Official Visit To American Legion

At the August meeting of Edgar Cole Post No. 304, American Legion, newly elected department commander, Bill Cain, of Butler, department finance officer, Roy Carber, of Columbia, and eighth district commander Jack Murphy of Columbia, were honored guests.

This was the first official visit by Commander Cain to any post in the state.

Department Finance Officer Carver gave a talk on veterans' benefits.

Eighth District Commander Murphy installed the newly-elected officers of the local post. He also spoke on the work of the legion in the eighth district, which was No. 1 in the parade at the state convention in Kansas City, because it had the highest percentage increase in membership of any district in the state the past year.

The new commander of the home post is Arthur Claas, the retiring commander being Connie Schmidt.

'Shasta' Postponed In Atomic Series

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (P)—The explosion of an atomic device, code-named "Shasta," has been postponed for the 12th time. Unfavorable winds were blamed, the AEC said last night. The blast from a 500-foot tower was rescheduled for tomorrow morning.

After the three-month training, Mrs. Magness will be assigned to a county in the southwest district as a home agent.

Graham Offers Papers To Baptist Seminary

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (P)—Evangelist Billy Graham has offered his personal letters, papers and sermons to the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Dr. Duke K. McCall, seminary president, said the papers will "afford generations of future young ministers the opportunity to study the great Graham revivals of this era."

The papers, including private correspondence with heads of many nations, will be kept in a Billy Graham Room in the soon-to-be-built James P. Boyce Library.

Ozark Empire Fair Opens at Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (P)—The 21st annual Ozark Empire Fair, the state's second largest exposition, opens tomorrow for a 7-day run.

Entries in the fair's 22 classes of competition total 5,520. G. B. Boyd, secretary-manager said that is about 600 less than last year's record-breaking 6,144 entries.

Boyd, however, said he was "not disappointed with the total." He said the number of entries had shown a steady increase each year for the past few years until the 1956 fair, when the total

The George Washington Bridge, a giant traffic link between New York and New Jersey. Photo courtesy Cities Service Company

It takes a GIANT to reach across a river

A giant bridge stands as a familiar landmark on the local scene, conveying its traffic to a specific destination. And just as familiar is the daily newspaper, a giant medium continually conveying news and advertising into almost every home in the nation.

More than 57,000,000 newspapers are bought daily, reaching almost every prospective customer in the land. And just as a bridge connects people on opposite shores, so does the daily newspaper link people on opposite sides of business—the buyers and the sellers of goods.

For wholesalers, distributors, retailers and regional manufacturers the newspaper is an indispensable courier which calls on practically every family in the local market.

If you want the fastest way to get your story across, you should be using the daily newspaper. It's the surest bridge between you and the people you want to sell.

All business is local... and so are all newspapers.

Sue Colclough Becomes Bride Of Loyd Williams

Miss Sue Colclough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Colclough of La Mesa, Calif. and Loyd Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams, Green Ridge, recently pledged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony at the Central Congregational Church at La Mesa, Calif.

Baskets of white gladioli and a pair of seven branch candelabra decorated the church.

"Hand in Hand Beside You" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Walter Barbour, accompanied by the organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace, the bodice with a modified V-neckline and a bouffant skirt. The long sleeves, tapering to points over the hands, were also of Chantilly lace. The lace paneling flaring from the front waist accented the chapel train of the bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle was secured to a tiara of tulle trimmed with white pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids arranged with white stephanotis and white satin streamers.

Miss Jo Anne Colclough, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Her floor length formal of pink net over pink taffeta had a strapless bodice. She wore a headband of pink carnations and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The bridegroom was attended by Edward Weber. Ushers were Lance Presnoll and Raymond Stempel.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Colclough wore a light green lace dress with tan accessories. Her corsage was of vanda orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. The three tiered wedding cake, topped with white wedding bells and white doves, centered the bride's table which was covered with a lace cloth.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Missouri to visit with the bridegroom's parents.

The bride's going away ensemble consisted of a navy blue suit and light blue and white accessories, complemented with an orchid corsage.

The bride recently graduated from Helix High School and is now attending business college.

The bridegroom graduated from the Green Ridge High School and is serving in the United States Navy. He is stationed at N.A.S. Meramar, San Diego, Calif. at the present time.

The young couple is residing in San Diego.

YELLOW PAGE ADS bring this store 120 calls a month

The Shaw and Collins appliance store used a special telephone number and kept a careful record of calls received from 20 different Yellow Page listings. Result: 1,050 calls in 9 months, or an average of 120 calls a month.

Did these calls from Yellow Page ads result in sales? In a letter to the telephone company, the store owner said: "The many sales resulting from directory listings have proved to us the value of classified advertising beyond our expectations." Now the store plans to use even more listings for other appliances it handles.

Yellow Page advertising can work for you, too, Mr. Businessman. Talk it over with the Yellow Page man when he calls on you.

Missile Site Selections Announced

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Selection of tentative sites for four proposed guided missile bases for the aerial defense of this area was announced yesterday.

Col. Leslie J. Staub, commanding officer, fourth region, Army Air Defense Command, said acquisition of land for the Nike launching locations was expected to be completed in about two months.

Staub, whose headquarters is at Richard-Gebaur Air Force Base at Grandview, Mo., said tentative sites have been picked in the vicinity of Leavenworth and Gardner in Kansas and Pleasant Hill and Excelsior Springs in Missouri.

Each base is expected to cost about 1½ million dollars, exclusive of missiles and operating supplies.

"We have made the general site selections on the basis of tactical defense requirements," Staub said. "We still have much information to gather about the tentative locations before we will be able to actually begin acquiring land."

The colonel said all sites will be located at least a mile from the cities named.

Each site will consist of two areas about a mile apart. Staub said the government will acquire actual title to one 5-acre site and one 10-acre site. Easements will be obtained on the mile strip between the two and on 40-acre tracts around each of the 10-acre sites.

Meetings will be held in the four cities next week to acquaint residents with the operation of the bases.

Clerk of Fair Gives Resume Of 1957 Show

A resume of what the Missouri State Fair will provide in the way of exhibitions and entertainment beginning Aug. 17 was given by Joe Byrne, chief clerk, in a talk before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

Byrne has been making a series of such talks before local service clubs and other groups.

During an open forum discussion of the fair some of the club members expressed disappointment that the fair officials had not recognized Sedalia Day in the official program appearing in the premium book.

Opinion seemed to prevail that there would always be a "Sedalia Day" at the State Fair as in the past 56 years, regardless of whether it is so designated in the premium book.

Myron Lindquist was program chairman.

Invocation was by the Rev. Edward R. Sims. Singing was led by Joe Allen with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Guests were: Kiwanian A. C. Gingrich, Booneville; and Kim Dabner with his uncle R. C. Hemphill.

Anthrax Epidemic In Oklahoma Seems To Be Losing Strength

WELCH, Okla. (AP)—An anthrax epidemic that has killed more than 400 head of livestock in three northeastern Oklahoma counties appeared to be weakening today.

A reduced staff of veterinarians neared the end of their drive to vaccinate livestock and prevent the spread of the killer disease.

Harold Hutton, president of the State Board of Agriculture, commented at the new turn: "Things look better than at any time in the last 10 days."

Craig County, the hardest hit area, lost two of its biggest annual events because of the outbreak, however.

The 22nd annual Will Rogers Memorial Rodeo, scheduled to open Aug. 28 for a 5-day run, was cancelled "in the best interests of Craig County agriculture." The 19th annual membership meeting of the Northeast Oklahoma Electric Cooperatives was postponed "indefinitely." It was set to open Aug. 15.

Meanwhile, Craig County's Disaster Committee called on state agriculture stabilization officials to provide 400 cars of surplus feed grain for the county's hard-hit dairy and livestock farmers. A quarantine on shipments has struck a crippling blow to the economy.

US Navy Will Have No Battleships Working At End of This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time in its modern history, the U.S. Navy will have no battleships operating at the end of this year.

The Navy announced today that the battleship Wisconsin and 18 other vessels will be placed in mothballs by Oct. 28. This is in addition to 60 others, including the battleship Iowa, which it said Monday will be retired by the end of the year.

The Iowa and the Wisconsin are now the only active battleships surviving the trend toward aircraft carriers and other more modern ship types.

The changes were ordered as part of an over-all economy drive designed to hold defense spending for the current fiscal year to $3 billion dollars.

As another part of the drive, the Navy announced yesterday a cutback of 10 to 15 per cent in the 254 million barrels of petroleum products it had planned to buy for all the armed services for the year. The saving was estimated at between 115 and 170 million dollars.

Dog Bites Policeman In Speeding Arrest

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Motorcycle Patrolman Eugene Scoville waved Mrs. Lulu Mae Johnson to the curb after clocking her at 34 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

"Let me see your driver's license," he said, reaching in the car window.

The woman's French poodle Billy Echo grabbed the officer's arm and "I thought he never was going to let loose," Mrs. Johnson said.

In the excitement Scoville almost forgot the speeding charge. Then Mrs. Johnson got a ticket. Scoville got his arm treated and Billy Echo got 10 days under observation for possible rabies.

Tries Winning Friends In Red Germany

BERLIN (AP)—An effort to win friends and influence the people of Communist-run East Germany was taken into the provinces today by Nikita Khrushchev.

The Soviet Communist party boss began a tour of key East German cities with a stop at Leipzig. A torchlight parade greeted him there last night and a rally of 100,000 persons was organized for today.

The Russian leader headed south from Berlin a few hours after a blistering speech threatening the West with possible rocket attacks.

Khrushchev was accompanied by Walter Ulbricht, Stalinist chief of East Germany's Communist party. Western newsmen were not permitted to go along.

Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, members of the delegation that arrived Wednesday from Moscow, were off on another jaunt.

East German Premier Otto Grotewohl accompanied Mikoyan and Gromyko on visits to seaports on the Baltic Sea. Mass rallies were scheduled for them in Stralsund today and in Rostock tomorrow.

The Russian party toured East Berlin yesterday after Khrushchev assailed the West before the East German Parliament.

In a speech clearly aimed at voters in the crucial West German election Sept. 15, the Russian leader accused the Western powers of turning West Germany into an anti-Communist war base.

Khrushchev threatened that "no distance will protect any country from the effects of atomic and hydrogen weapons" in rockets.

The touring group was confronted all over East Berlin with the name Stalin on buildings, statues and streets. Khrushchev has avowedly been fighting Stalinism but the iron-fisted Ulbricht still adheres to policies of the late Russian dictator. Nevertheless, Khrushchev obviously has decided to build up the prestige of Ulbricht. On Wednesday he praised the satellite leader for "intelligent" policies and since then Ulbricht has been close by Khrushchev's side for speeches and photographs.

Largest Balloon Ever Released in US Goes Aloft on East Coast

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP)—A balloon, described as the largest ever released in the United States, was launched at Grenier Air Force Base today.

The balloon was the third in a series being released here to gather research data about balloons themselves and also to obtain information useful to meteorologists.

Dr. Alvin H. Howell, directing the balloon program for the Air Force Research Center at Bedford, Mass., said the pear-shaped balloon will reach a measurement of about 200 feet in diameter when it soars to its ceiling of 90,000 feet.

The balloon rose rapidly and disappeared above the clouds in 30 minutes. Dr. Howell said the mechanism is "set for five days."

By then, he said, the balloon may reach the West Coast, or at least the Rocky Mountains.

Its location will be traced by a signal sent out from a radio in the instrument package which hangs below it.

After five days, an automatic mechanism will cut the instruments from the balloon and they will descend by parachute.

Confidential Trial Resumes Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The criminal trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines and their alleged Hollywood agents resumes today, with actor Tab Hunter trying to avoid being called as a witness.

Hunter, once the subject of a Confidential article, has filed a motion to quash his summons as a defense witness.

Before the prosecution calls more witnesses, Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker will hear arguments on the motion.

Gilbert D. Seton, attorney for Hunter, contends that the article about Hunter is not among those on which the state is basing its charges of conspiracy to publish libelous and obscene matter.

Hunter is among more than 100 movie celebrities subpoenaed by the defense.

In addition to Confidential and Whisper, defendants are Publisher's Distributing Corp., and Hollywood Research, Inc., and its operators, Fred and Marjorie Meade.

Pills Can Be Dangerous

Someone asks if preachers don't become bored preaching against sin week in and week out. This may forever remain an enigma because preachers aren't going to tell.

Preaching against sin is much like preaching against carelessness and for safety; the first is for preservation of the soul and the second of the body.

On the subject of safety, for instance, consider the harmless-looking headache pill on top of the dresser, table, or in the medicine cabinet. It can also be a headache to parents of young children who have a propensity for exploration and experimentation.

Nearly a fifth of the 1,400 children treated for accidental poisoning in a Midwestern city had swallowed those innocent-looking aspirin tablets, too.

More than 1,300 deaths from poisoning—mostly from medicine and household items—are reported annually in the United States, National Safety Council statistics show.

Chief victim of accidental poisoning is the tot under four years of age. But right up there as poison victims are persons in the 25-64 age group.

The types of accidental poisoners are as varied as the containers they come in—bleach, permanent wave solution, shampoo, nail polish remover, furniture polish and cosmetics. The toddler will even drink kerosene if he gets a chance.

While weed-killers, pesticides, cosmetics, kerosene and cleaning agents are hazardous, the main villain is medicine. It accounts for more than half of all accidental poisoning deaths.

"Old houses, too, can be boobytraps for youngsters," said Ralph Kuhl, assistant director of the Council's home safety division.

"Tots can be poisoned by peeling paint on window sills and frames, by peeling wallpaper and paint from crumbling plaster." Each can cause lead poisoning.

What's the solution? "Education," said Kuhl. "Parents should be made aware of the seriousness of the problem."

"There should be stricter state and federal laws requiring that the ingredients be listed on bottles containing these valuable—yet potentially harmful—substances."

The best way to cut down on deaths from poisoning? Prevent the poisoning, answered Kuhl. Follow these rules, he advised:

1. Store medicines out of the reach of children. Don't leave them in purses or bureaus.
2. Don't take medicine in the dark.
3. Don't put poisonous substances in soft-drink bottles, used jelly jars, or pans. Children may drink out of them.
4. Have a medicine cabinet with a locked poison compartment installed if you remodel or build a new home.

The conclusion is well established—it's sinful not to practice safety.

Philadelphian Votes Against His City

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Votes inside the House Rules Committee are super-secret. Folks back home are not supposed to know how the members of this key committee vote, even though this committee can kill a bill or expedite a bill. For, without a "rule" from the Rules Committee, no legislation can pass.

A very important but secret vote took place inside the Rules Committee the other day on whether to give a "rule" to the natural gas bill which will increase the cost of gas about $800,000,000 a year to the consumers. Almost every member of the Rules Committee (elected from gas-consuming areas) voted against the bill—except for one man.

He was Congressman Hugh Scott, Republican of Philadelphia.

Philadelphia is a tremendous consumer of gas, one of the foremost in the nation. Its representatives have fought bitterly against the gas bill. Despite this, Scott secretly voted against his own city.

Furthermore, he cast a key vote. The vote inside the Rules Committee was 5 to 5 when it came to him. Members of the committee expected Scott to vote against the gas bill. He was once Republican national chairman, once managed Tom Dewey's campaign for president, had a tough re-election race himself. It seemed inconceivable that he would vote against the interests of his own city. But he did.

Had Scott voted the other way, against the gas bill, Chairman Howard Smith of Virginia could only have tied the vote. This would have resulted in a defeat for the gas lobby. The gas bill would not have been voted out to the floor of Congress.

No one knows exactly why Scott voted against his own constituents. Perhaps it was because he figured it would remain secret.

However, the biggest contributor to the Republican party in the entire nation was the Pew family of Sun Oil Company. The Pew family contributed $216,000 to various Republican committees, which in turn were the biggest contributors to Scott.

Note—Another interesting contributor to Scott's campaign was Maxwell H. Gluck, new, naive ambassador of Ceylon, who admitted he didn't know the name of the Ceylonese prime minister or even the prime minister of India.

Peronism Spreads

The American embassy in Buenos Aires has reported with alarm on the huge vote piled up by ex-Dictator Peron in the recent Argentine election. It shocked American diplomats.

Twenty-five per cent of the voters followed Peron's long distance advice and cast blank ballots. This is a tremendous testimonial to a man 3,000 miles away in Venezuela.

U.S. diplomats fear this means either Peron will stage a comeback or that a new dictator will emerge in Argentina patterned after Peron. Chances are the U.S. will pressure Venezuela to get Peron out of the western hemisphere before Peronism spreads.

Merry-Go-Round

The party thrown by Tammany boss Carmine De Sapio for 75 top Democrats after the Patterson-Jackson fight was supposed to be strictly social. However, De Sapio talked privately with two other Democratic bigwigs, Jake Arvey of Chicago and Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, about supporting Senator Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts for president in 1960. . . . The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, which is carrying on Joe McCarthy's old work, will soon shift to the west coast. Senators will probe Harry Bridges' Longshoremen's Union. . . . The same subcommittee is burnt up over the headlines being given to the Senate Rackets Committee. . . . The same congressmen who slashed the defense budget are now asking the Defense Department for free airplane rides to Europe. Dozens of requests have poured into the Pentagon. . . . Only the Joint Atomic Energy Committee so far has been okayed for a free trip to Austria. Wives will go along. . . . Senator Knowland's friends say that he has won over all Republican California congressmen in his bid for governor, except Hubert H. Scudder of Sebastopol. The same congressmen used to profess great friendship for Governor Goodwin Knight.

A Friend Is Precious

The world is full of lonely people, greatly in need of friends — yet friendship is a rare and delicate relationship. Friendship must be a two way affair, because one can never gain a friend without being one. Sometimes it is hard to be on the giving side. Few people have real friends who know all about them and love them still.

Some people have a genius for friendship. They are outgoing and seem to be able to enter into the very thought and mind of another person. They are true to a friend when the need is great, when friendship becomes a challenge with no thought of receiving anything in return because the joy of serving that friend is sufficient compensation.

True friendship cannot endure unless both persons give something, whether consciously or subconsciously.

A selfish person who seeks friendship only to have someone listen to his woes or to use another for what he can get out of the relationship never gains an enduring and genuine friend. The one who gives of himself joyously and generously will strike the same kind of response in the person whom he chooses for a friend.

Even while friends serve those they love, they also come to love those they serve.

Rights Bill Like Old Lady's Umbrella

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil rights bill is like the umbrella of an eccentric old lady who stuffed it with all kinds of things, like ribbons, bottlecaps, broken combs and banana peels. The deeper you dig, the more you find.

The lengthy debate developed several provisions which brought surprise to legislators and others who hadn't realized they were in the bill.

Now there is concern about a section in the bill which was almost completely overlooked. It got a passing mention in the House debate, which lasted from June 5 to 18, and a brief mention in the Senate, which debated from July 8 to Aug. 7.

Under Section 1 of the bill, now passed by the House and Senate, a commission would be created to examine all kinds of civil rights problems for two years. It could hold hearings in the open or behind closed doors.

Subsection G of Section 1 says: Anyone who "released or used" information obtained by the commission behind closed doors, in executive session, could be fined up to $1,000 or jailed for a year. The word "used" would seem to mean that a newspaperman who got such information — and used it — could be fined or jailed. A court might, and perhaps would, so interpret it. This raises a question of censorship of the press.

How did Subsection G get into the bill and what was the purpose behind it? The Justice Department, which wrote the bill, didn't put it in. It was put in by the House Judiciary Committee before it approved the bill and sent it to the full House for a vote. This was done in an executive session of the committee.

Members of congressional committees are not supposed to talk about what goes on in executive sessions, any more than members of the proposed civil rights commission would be supposed to say what happens in their executive sessions.

Nevertheless, this writer learned: As the bill came to the committee from the Justice Department, it contained no rules for the commission's operations. So the committee members wrote in rules.

Then came the question of how to stop leaks on what happened in executive sessions of the commission. Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) proposed the $1,000 fine or year in jail for anyone who gave out or used such information. Was this aimed at newspapermen?

This writer asked the senior members of the committee, both of New York: Representatives Celler, Democrat and chairman, and Keating, the top-ranking Republican. Both said the committee was not aiming at newspapermen when it wrote in the penalty.

Both said that if this bill becomes law, they would back an amendment to exclude newspapermen from this penalty. Keating said he would propose such an amendment himself. Why not take it out now before it becomes law?

Keating and Celler said they doubt if it could be removed from the bill now because, while both houses differed on other parts of the bill, both agreed on Subsection G.

The only mention of Subsection G in 14 days of House debate came when Rep. Roosevelt (D-Calif.) on June 11 asked if the purpose of the penalty was "to protect witnesses who might appear before the commission." Celler that day said, "Yes, I think the gentleman is correct."

Then Rep. Rogers (D-Colo.), a member of Celler's committee, said the purpose was to let the commission hold truly closed-door sessions to protect innocent people from wild charges by witnesses who might appear.

In the heat of Senate debate, Subsection G was ignored until it was too late to do anything about it. Late Wednesday night, just before the bill's passage, Sen. Javits (R-N.Y.) explained his own version of the intent of the penalty.

He did it for this reason: Judges read congressional debates on a law, when they're trying a case coming under that law, to learn if they can what Congress' intention was in approving a certain section or part.

Since the House and Senate debates nowhere said Subsection G was not intended to apply to newspapermen, Javits, for the benefit of future judges, put in his own explanation.

He said Subsection G was aimed not at newspapermen but only at members or employees of the commission to keep them from leaking closed-door information. Whether this would mean anything to a judge remains to be seen.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

The tone of one's voice conveys more of a message than the words one says. Little babies who cannot understand a single word get meaning from the inflection of a mother's voice. Even a puppy dog obeys his master's voice without knowing words or their meanings.

We can put people at ease or stir up opposition by the emphasis we use. We convey indifference or enthusiasm by a rise or fall of sounds from our lips. Our feelings, our emotions, our hatreds and our love flow from our vocal chords.

The contagion of our voices moves others to thought and action. It inspires, discourages or even damages those within hearing distance.

Let us pray that God's voice may become so real to us that we may reflect His tone in our voices. The world could be so easily lifted to a level of higher thinking and acting with the right tone of voice.

Price Hikes Impend Over Restrictions On Imports

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Developments are breaking fast on the oil and natural gas front.

Texas oil producers have now succeeded in selling the administration on issuing an order of so-called "voluntary" restrictions on imports of foreign oil. The special cabinet committee to investigate Crude Oil Imports called for drastic reductions in petroleum imports and put those reductions immediately into effect.

Senator Frederick Payne (R-Me.) estimates that means "cutting planned crude oil imports for the remainder of the year by about 20 per cent." He predicts "the direct effect of this will be a price hike on all products in New England, currently the biggest consumer of imported oil."

Senator Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) claims "the net result will lower the supply of gasoline in the U.S. and this will tend to cause an increase in the price of gasoline and oil products in your automobile, tractor and home heating system."

Senator Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) strongly protested in the House of Representatives for New England textile industry from Japanese imports.

Meanwhile, there is similar alarm over developments in the Department of Justice's Anti-Trust investigation of reported monopolistic activities which are "freezing" Canadian natural gas out of the American market.

Over in the House, the last-ditch fight is going on over the natural gas bill, which would remove control by the Federal Power Commission, and raise the gas rates, according to opponents of the bill.

Senator Wiley calls this "the shocking bill which the President vetoed last year." However the White House's announced reason then was objection to the pressure tactics used by an oil lobby involving a bribery charge made by Senator Francis Case (R-S.D.).

Will Wind Up Crusade With Big Meeting

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham plans to wind up his New York crusade with a mass meeting in Times Square Sunday night, Sept. 1.

The Times Square meeting will begin at 7 p.m., and Graham said it will be brief so as not to hold up traffic too long at "The Crossroads of the World." Times Square is almost never used as a meeting place.

Graham told his Madison Square Garden audience last night the city has given permission for the Times Square meeting. Detailed plans for the rally are still to be worked out. The square would have to be closed to traffic, and the side streets roped off.

Graham said: "One of the things about a Times Square meeting which appeals to us is that around the world the only picture that Times Square brings to mind is revelry on New Year's Eve. We think it would be a wonderful thing to hear the sounds of hymns and the preaching of the Gospel in Times Square."

The Times Square rally, Graham noted, will bring to a close the longest evangelistic crusade in his career. The crusade started May 15 and it will be 15½ weeks old as of Sept. 1. His 12-week crusade in London was his longest prior to this. Graham's last meeting at Madison Square Garden will be Saturday night, Aug. 31.

At last night's meeting, 300 persons stepped forward to make "decisions for Christ." This raised the total to 43,830. Total attendance at the 76 meetings stands at 1,446,500. Last night's drew 17,500 persons.

Taking Timothy 2:3-16 as his text, Graham preached on "how to study the Bible."

The evangelist gave tips on how to make the Bible a living reality in Christian life. One suggestion was to practice a verse each day. "Make it your rule of life for that day," he advised.

"The Bible has stood through the centuries," Graham said. "The Ten Commandments have not changed. The Sermon on the Mount has not changed. The way to heaven has not changed."

"Man has changed his views on many things, but the Bible foresees this. It says 'There is a way that seemeth right to a man, but the end is death.'"

Graham will devote his crusade to teen-agers next week. He hopes to attract thousands of them—including many from the city's warring youth gangs — to hear his message at Madison Square Garden.

The evangelist has pitched into the campaign against juvenile delinquency, which erupted into a wave of teen-age killings and other violence in recent weeks.

TV Standards Often Breed Odd Results

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—If television is the great sales medium its merchants claim, most women are applying their roll-on, smear-on, squirt-on deodorants exclusively to their wrists—except when, about to leap into steam cabinets, they apply them to their foreheads.

The reason is, of course, that TV's arbiters of ethics and good taste have declared milady's underarm out of bounds visually—although it is not held to be unmentionable.

Television has persistent groups of articulate critics. Hence, TV men try very hard to exclude material which—as the TV Code says—is "generally regarded as unsuitable conversational topics in mixed social groups."

This effort, combined with the general wording of the code, has resulted in some fascinating interpretations of just what constitutes good taste and proper conversation in mixed groups.

For instance, I don't know how much time you spent in your living room looking at pictures of the human digestive tract. We don't spend much, which is probably the reason I have been assuming lately that it is a series of metal pipes, funnels and hinges, all held together by nuts and bolts.

"We are opposed to clinical diagrams," said one censor for a major network. "But we accept innards when they are animated—geometrical or mechanical—illustrations."

This seemed particularly interesting in view of the fact that station censors find adequately delicate the sight of a cloth square dropping to pieces when touched with stomach acid, in a commercial apparently designed to warn people against eating handkerchiefs.

If you look closely, you'll find that women are never shown "quaffing" (television people use this word instead of "drinking") beer.

For a long time, manufacturers of such intimate articles of apparel as girdles and brassieres were deprived of TV commercial time.

One of them, however, finally managed to get through the lines of good taste with a filmed bit showing, first, a fully "oiled" female as comfortable as a kitten, then in the same setting, an animated girdle and bra—without visible support—performing in the same free and easy manner. This passed the taste muster and everybody got the idea.

Flores Will Open Spanish Food Restaurant Here

Something new in the way of eating places is coming to Sedalia and will open on Saturday. The restaurant will serve only Spanish food and will be operated by Mr. and Mrs. Guil Flores, Sr., 228 South Monticello.

It will be located on East Highway 50 in the 3100 block.

Gib, as Flores is known around Sedalia, is an old hand at stirring up a good dish. He taught his wife how to cook the food that he liked from his native land of Mexico.

Flores will start from scratch, making his own tortillas. He will also serve frijoles, tacos, avocado salad and many other Spanish style dishes. Another item that will be on the menu is meatballs and spaghetti with oregano spice and camino seed.

Over 26 years ago Flores came here with his two brothers, Sevando and Rudolfo, to attend Central Business College. Guil decided to stay and make his home here. Sevando lives in Mineral Wells, Tex., and Rudolfo teaches English in Joplin.

Flores is also owner and operator of the Ideal Printing Co. which he will continue for the present.

David Nelson Has Backing Of Parents

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What is a red-blooded, all-American boy like David Nelson doing amid the lurid crowd in "Peyton Place"?

I hustled out to 20th Century Fox, where they are filming the controversial (meaning sexy) novel, and put the question to him. "I'm not sure," he replied blandly. "But it's not so bad, really. I'm still red-blooded and all-American. In fact, I'm the only normal character in the picture."

But what will his parents think of it? "Oh, them," he replied. "Why, it was their idea that I do it." David's parents are Ozzie and Harriet Nelson, who are about as homey as apple pie and then some. So if they gave the green light to David's venture into sin (ful cinema, I guess it must be all right).

Matter of fact, this is David's first venture into movies of any kind, discounting "Here Come the Nelsons," which served as virtually a pilot film for their ABC TV series. For the first time, he's playing someone besides David Nelson. He enacts Ted Carter, a regular guy and boyfriend of the ill-starred Selena, played by Hope Lange.

"I'm anxious to see how this turns out," said David. "It might open up a whole new field." You'd think that David would need a new field like he needs another Porsche (that's what he drives). Besides "Peyton Place," he's got to make 39 TV films with his family this year. He takes a full-time course (history major, English minor) at the University of Southern California. And he hopes to make the football varsity as a quarterback this year.

"The TV schedule isn't so bad," he commented. "We do six or seven in a row and then lay off for a week to let dad catch his breath. My shooting is in the morning or afternoon, according to when I have classes. When I'm out for the team, they write me out of the script and my brother Rickey carries the load.

"I manage to stay ahead in my studies most of the time, but sometimes it's hard. It's kinda tough to go to the school in the morning, shoot the TV show the rest of the day and have to hit the books at night."

Meet Deepwater Tonight

Generals Continue in Drive For State Semi-Pro Crown

The Sedalia Generals resume their quest for the championship in the Missouri Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament at Columbia tonight against the Deepwater Dodgers. The locals, playing the second contest of the evening, are slated to get underway at 9 p. m.

A victory would push the Sedalians, sponsored by the Owen General Tire Co., into a favorite's role in the winner's bracket since several top-rated clubs suffered from the upset plague in early tourney play. The Sedalians topped Montgomery City, 9-3, in their only other tournament outing.

The Deepwater club, composed of talent from the Clinton area, indicated it carries a bigger stick than most observers thought at the meet's outset. In their first engagement they pinned a lopsided 12-1 defeat on the Salisbury All-Stars, with righthander Fred Hills tossing a brilliant one-hitter. Hills fanned 16 Salisbury batsmen in the abbreviated contest, which was called at the end of seven innings due to the eight-run lead tourney rule. Hills had a no-hitter going into the sixth when Salisbury's Paul Emmerich tagged him for a double after two were out.

Ray Estes, the sharp but sometimes erratic righthander for the Generals, will probably get the starting mound assignment. Hills is expected to pitch again for Deepwater.

Sedalia's hope for the tourney title received both a boost and a jolt since the opener on Monday night. The good news came from hard-hitting first sacker, Sam Wiggins. Wiggins will be back in action after being shelved as a result of a poisonous snake bite received on a week-end fishing trip in southern Missouri.

The bad news was from righthander Bobby Brown who suffered severe bruises in an eighth inning collision at home plate while he was pitching a six-hit victory over Montgomery City. Brown's pitching arm is swollen at the bicep. His availability prior to the tournament-end is still in question.

The starting line-up for the Generals will probably be: Sam Wiggins, 1b; "Bones" Morgan, 2b; Jerry Burgoine, ss; "Bull" Higgins, 3b; Bill Dey, lf; Sonny Thomas, cf; Jim Fall, rf; "Salty" Schumaker, c; and Ray Estes, p. In reserve will be pitchers Bill George, Bill Bishop, Dave Johnson and Bill McKelvey; catcher-outfielder Larry Mines; and outfielder-first baseman Tom Cory.

The unseeded Versailles Merchants, with southpaw Bob Garrison tossing a superb six-hitter, knocked off the favored Washington Buds in 11 innings in the Missouri State Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament at Columbia.

Versailles pushed across the winning run in the 11th with a lead-off single by Blake Cable and a sacrifice by Odean Washington pitcher Seifert then issued intentional walks to Graden Daniels and Garrison to load the bases. Buddy Heineman then squeezed in the winning tally on Seifert's first pitch.

In other tourney action, the Columbia Whiz Kids, a team composed of Ban Johnson players, breezed through their first test by pounding out a 14-0 verdict over the Fulton Red Birds.

FOOT TROUBLE—More than two feet of trouble for the Army is what the tape measure shows. Pfc. John Ano, 23, of Trenton, N.J., is having trouble being fitted by the Army. In fact, after a year of service he still hasn't been fitted with the 16 AAA brogans or the 17½ socks he wears. Ano is pictured at Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco, where the Army is trying to solve his problems. Until they do, he'll be the envy of all GI's with his sandals and argyle socks.

All-Star Grid Game Matches Runs, Passes

CHICAGO — Tonight's 24th annual All-Star Football Game pits the slashing running attack of the New York Giants against the untested passing offense of the collegians.

The Giants, National Football League champions, are favored over the All-Stars by 10 points in the season's first big gridiron encounter.

The game will be televised by ABC at 8:30 p. m., EST.

This is an enthusiastic bunch of collegians who have been working out under Coach Curly Lambeau. Never has an All-Star squad boasted such top-flight passers as John Brodie of Stanford, Lennie Dawson of Purdue, Jim Harris of Oklahoma and Paul Hornung of Notre Dame. Since the Giants line is big and tough — and led the NFL defensively last season — it seems only logical for the collegians to pin all their hopes on passing.

The All-Stars also have some excellent pass catchers in Ron Kramer and Tom Maentz of Michigan, Brad Bomba of Indiana and Lamar Lundy of Purdue.

To back up the passing threat the college team has some fine breakaway runners in Jim Brown of Syracuse, Tommy McDonald of Oklahoma, Jon Arnett of Southern California and Clarence Peaks of Michigan State.

It is this strong collection of offensive talent that prevents the Giants from being overwhelming favorites. Conceivably, if the All-Stars could score early on a pass or a long run, they might be able to go on and upset the big pro champions.

Even the experts who concede the great potential of the All-Stars, all but one of whom will go on to play professional football this fall, admit time has been too short to weld the individual stars into a smooth running team.

The Giants, on the other hand, have lost only Rosy Grier at tackle out of their great 1956 team that swept to the NFL crown by beating the Chicago Bears 47-7 in the championship game.

New York Giants Near Readiness For Coast Move

NEW YORK — It begins to look as though all the New York Giants have to do to move their National League baseball franchise to San Francisco is pack their bags.

President Horace Stoneham, who has said for a month or so he would move as soon as he received a "satisfactory proposition," announced yesterday he has received "a very firm and fair offer" from Mayor Christopher of San Francisco.

All that remains, apparently, is a formal presentation of the San Francisco offer before the club's board of directors, which Stoneham added he would do "within the next 10 days."

While no Giant official revealed any details of the San Francisco bid, Stoneham and Vice President Chub Feeney looked happy after emerging from a long conference over the offer yesterday.

The San Francisco package reportedly calls for:

1. City construction of a 45,000-capacity stadium;
2. A rental fee figured at 7 per cent of gross attendance each year;
3. Giants' control of concessions;
4. City control of parking facilities.

In the first game of the evening Thursday night, Adco beat the Elks 17-6. Lange was the winning pitcher, Carson the loser. Adco made 12 hits and the Elks made three.

In the second game, the Optimists pushed aside the Lions 10-7 behind the winning pitching of Golf. Robb was the loser. Both Robb and Ferguson hit homers for the Lions.

Mullins and Brown's Won Thursday Night

Mullins Men's Wear strengthened their hold on second place in the Babe Ruth League Wednesday night when they defeated Phillips 66 to the tune of 6-0. Leroy Cole, on the mound for Mullins hurled superb ball, allowing only three hits and walking only three. Weising, Holman and Mateja received these three hits. The heavy hitters for Mullins were Dow with three out of four, Wallace and Kelly with two each and Wertz, Cole, Decker and Van Dyne with one each. Kelley slammed out a home run for one of his hits.

In the second game on Wednesday night Browns won over Andersons 10-1, the only score by Andersons being a home run by Nicky Nichols. Benner pitched a very good game for Browns, allowing only two other hits other than the home run, a single by Tim Morgan and one by Nichols. Meanwhile Browns were scoring ten runs off of the pitching of Carson. Hitters for Browns were Benner with two and Shepherd, Fischer and Dawson with one each.

On Friday night Browns meet Phillips 66 in the first game and McCowns play Mullins in the 8 o'clock contest.

BOWDEN BUILDS BODY—Don Bowden, University of California's great miler, and the only American ever to run the mile in less than four minutes, has added a new exercise to his training program, weight lifting. Bowden, who stands six feet one inch, weighs only 157 pounds and hopes to build up his body with the exercise. He is just back from Europe where distance runners told him weight lifting is part of their regular training. (AP Wirephoto)

Scramble Helps Milwaukee

Are Other Contenders Trying To Make Braves Feel Secure?

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

What are those other National League contenders trying to do, lure the Milwaukee Braves into a false feeling of security?

Any way you look at it, the scramble suddenly has opened up and the Braves are on top with a "whopping" 2½-game lead—their largest of the season. They made it as Cincinnati rolled over again, 5-3, yesterday and the seventh-place Chicago Cubs bopped the second-place St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 for a three-game sweep.

Third-place Brooklyn is five games back, skidding with a 12-3 clobbering from the New York Giants. Cincinnati and Philadelphia now are tied for fourth, seven games behind, after the Phillies defeated Pittsburgh 6-3 while the Redlegs lost for the 11th time in 12 games with Milwaukee this season.

If this is the breakup in the NL log jam, the Braves should know by Sunday night—after a three-game set at St. Louis.

In the American League, Washington made it two in a row over New York 6-1 and trimmed the Yankees' lead to five games as Chicago's second-place White Sox defeated Kansas City 7-4. Baltimore regained fifth place from Detroit by defeating Boston 3-1 while the Tigers lost to Cleveland.

Red Schoendienst, the second baseman who was supposed to have brought the Braves the pennant along with his bat and glove when the Giants traded him to Milwaukee June 15, got the job done yesterday. He lined a two-run single in the eighth, breaking a 3-3 tie and bringing Lew Burdette his 10th victory.

Ex-Brave George Crowe hammered his 24th home run and Frank Robinson swatted his 18th in the eighth to junk a 3-1 Milwaukee lead. Reliever Raul Sanchez lost it, loading the bases with two walks and a hit batsman ahead of Schoendienst's hit.

The Cubs won six in a row for the first time since 1955 with a two-run seventh against southpaw Wilmer Mizell that cracked a two-all tie. Singles by Moe Drabowsky, the young right-hander who won his eighth, and Bobby Adams brought in the runs. Dave Hillman blanked the Cards after relieving Drabowsky when a walk and two singles gave the Cards a run in the eighth. Del Ennis had a two-run homer for St. Louis while Stan Musial had two singles and regained the bat lead at .334.

The Giants completed a sweep ersons being a home run by Nicky Nichols. Benner pitched a very good game for Browns, allowing only two other hits other than the home run, a single by Tim Morgan and one by Nichols. Meanwhile Browns were scoring ten runs off of the pitching of Carson. Hitters for Browns were Benner with two and Shepherd, Fischer and Dawson with one each.

On Friday night Browns meet Phillips 66 in the first game and McCowns play Mullins in the 8 o'clock contest.

Snead Takes 1-Stroke Lead At Chicago

CHICAGO — The locker room banter at Tam O'Shanter golf club went this way today as the best 100 pros in the country prepared for the second round of the $101,200 "World" golf championship:

"To have Sam Snead breathing down your back is bad enough. But to have the guy in front — oh, man!"

Snead, 45, is supposed to be the richest golf pro. He swung into the second round of golf's biggest treasure hunt with a one-stroke lead.

Snead fired an opening 7-under-par 65 yesterday to gain the front-running spot which over the years he has been known to maintain through a tournament. This prize is golf's biggest payoff — $30,000 exhibition contract.

"Just tell the boys I have a tin can half full," said the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro who came up through the caddy ranks. He referred to the kidding he has been taking that he has all his money hidden in tin cans under the floor of his home.

But Snead wasn't away and flying after the first round. One stroke away at 66 was Jerry Barber, always a contender in this jamboree. There also was a well-grouped following that included 32 who broke par 72.

At 67 was Canadian Al Balding. Bracketed at 68, were Shelly Mayfield, Mike Souhak and Dow Finsterwald, who has finished in the money in 58 consecutive tournaments.

The 69 shooters included Earl Stewart, Jack Fleck, Tony Holguin, Ken Venturi, Bob Rosburg, Bo Wininger and Ernie Vossler.

Bob Ross Jr., 20-year-old state amateur champion from Springfield, Ohio, shot 71 for a one-stroke edge over defending champion Ward Wetlaufer, Buffalo, and All American titlist Don Cherry.

Clifford Ann Creed of Opelousas, La., topped the women amateurs with 81. She was two strokes ahead of Lois Drafke, Chicago.

Marilynn Smith, playing one of her finest rounds in two years, notched a 5-under-par 71 to lead the women's pro chase for a $6,000 first prize. Two strokes away was Mary Lena Faulk.

nies. Ted Williams had two of Boston's six hits, hiking his bat mark to .390.

Vic Wertz drove in two runs with a homer and long fly for the Tribe as Ray Narleski took a 9-1 record with a six-hitter. Duke Maas was the loser.

HONOLULU (AP)—"I wasn't calling the shots — the good Lord was."

That's Maj. Samuel Tyson's explanation of how he kept his huge C-97 military air transport aloft 6 1/2 hours on two engines yesterday.

Play Safe While You Drive!

Keep alert—chew gum

Avoid traffic jitters and driving drowsiness. Chew gum while you're behind the wheel. Chewing helps relieve strain and tension—helps keep you feeling fresh and alert for safer driving. Chew any brand of gum you like but chew while you drive. Naturally, we recommend refreshing, delicious Wrigley's Spearmint Gum—for lively, satisfying flavor and real chewing enjoyment.

day for 1,000 miles over the Pacific with 67 people aboard. Tyson, a 37-year-old veteran of World War II, the Korean War and the Berlin airlift who comes from Council Bluffs, Iowa, piloted the plane into Hilo, Hawaii, at 11:25 a.m. yesterday. Two of its engines had quit just beyond the point of no return from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., to Hickam AFB, Oahu.

"It never occurred to me that we would ditch," said Tyson. "I'm a coward. I can't swim very far. The water's cold." More seriously he said, "I'd determined to take things as they came. After the first shock of realizing we were in danger, and after the adrenalin shot into me, I thought clearer and acted better. I had confidence in myself. "After all, I wasn't calling the shots — the good Lord was."

Job With A Future

AMES, Iowa (AP)—Andy Anderson received a congratulatory telegram on his 97th birthday from his employer, a shoe company. It advised that when he reaches 100 his salesman's commission would be doubled. "I'm saving that telegram," says Andy. "It's a contract and I intend to collect on it." He has been covering most of Iowa for 76 years. He has a son who retired at 72.

Craft Limpers 1,000 Miles

HONOLULU, Aug. 8—A C97 military transport plane brought 67 persons to a smooth, safe landing in Hilo, Hawaii, today, happily ending a tense, 6½-hour flight across 1,000 miles of sea with two dead engines.

The pilot, Maj. Samuel Tyson, 37, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, reported by radio he was just past the point of no return, halfway on the 2,250-mile flight, so there was no turning back.

The routine overnight flight from Travis Air Force Base, Calif. northeast of San Francisco, for Hickam Field, Honolulu, suddenly became a stark battle against time and adversity when the No. 1 engine on the left side failed at 4:56 a.m.

Conferees In Accord On Aid Bill

$3 Billion Plan Includes Fund For Aid Loans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—Senate and House conferees agreed tonight on a compromise $3,366,000,000 foreign aid bill carrying authority for President Eisenhower to set up a new two-year fund to make loans for economic development abroad.

The figure agreed upon represented almost a down-the-line split of differences between Senate and House versions of the foreign aid authorization bill. It also represented a $498,410,000 reduction in the $3,864,410,000 requested by Eisenhower for this fiscal year, ending next June 30.

The House bill had provided $3,116,833,000; the Senate $3,617,333,000.

Up to this date 38 beef cattle have been entered, 40 dairy cattle, 62 hogs, five sheep and 15 coops of chickens. Field crops entries will be a part of the show, too.

The Pettis County Farm Bureau sponsor the 4-H Livestock show in cooperation with the Agricultural Extension office by financing the show through the sale of ads to Pettis County merchants and business firms. The ads appear in the 4-H Livestock show catalog. They also furnish the ribbons.

Showmanship medals will be awarded to the best showman in four divisions. The Sedalia Lions Club will present the dairy and sheep medals. The Sedalia Kiwanis Club will present the beef and hog medals.

Issues Threat of Rocket Attacks; Sees Reich as Western War Base

BERLIN, Aug. 8—Nikita Khrushchev warned the United States and its allies that the military buildup in West Germany could lead to war and hydrogen rocket attacks on their cities.

The Russian party boss accused the Western powers of scheming to use Germany as a war base "and the German people as cannon fodder in their plans to conquer the world."

B47 Stratojet Crashes, Four Escape Injury

TOPEKA, Aug. 8—A B-47 six-engine jet bomber burst into flames after its landing gear apparently collapsed on landing at Forbes Air Force Base here today but four men aboard escaped injury.

A Forbes official said the landing gear apparently collapsed just as the plane touched the runway. It spun around, burst into flames and was virtually destroyed. It did not tip over.

SCRAMBLE TO SAFETY

The four men scrambled to safety. They were taken to a base hospital for an examination but an official said they had no apparent injuries.

Aboard the craft were Maj. H. B. Williams, instructor-pilot and aircraft commander, Capt. R. K. Rhodes, Huntington Station, N.Y., a pilot; 1st Lt. J. M. Birmingham, Anaheim, Calif., copilot, and Airman First Class I. C. Swamp, the plane's crew chief.

New Hurricane Is Developing Off Gulf Coast

Bertha's 60 M.P.H. Winds Gain Force, Approach Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 8—The Weather Bureau ordered a hurricane watch along the west Louisiana and upper Texas coasts today as tropical storm Bertha wallowed in the Gulf of Mexico, 125 miles south of Grand Isle, La.

Oil companies already are moving workers from offshore rigs as Bertha's winds reached 60 miles an hour. The Weather Bureau said in a 4:30 p. m. advisory.

Low areas along the coast were warned to prepare for possible evacuation later tonight as the tropical storm moved between west and northwest at 10 to 12 miles an hour.

"All interests along the Louisiana coast should take precautions against winds of three to six feet and gale winds," the bureau said. Bertha's heavy winds extended out 100 miles from the center in squalls.

Bertha developed exactly six weeks after Hurricane Audrey, the first of the season, smashed the southwest Louisiana coast, leaving more than 500 persons dead or injured.

The Weather Bureau's advisory placed the center of the latest storm near latitude 27.3, longitude 89.5.

"Indications are for increase in size and intensity of this storm tonight possibly reaching hurricane force," the advisory said.

Storm warnings were ordered hoisted along the entire Louisiana coast.

Catholic Laymen Ask Pope To Halt Church Integration

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 8—The Association of Catholic Laymen-bypassing its archbishop—today asked Pope Pius XII in Rome to stop racial integration in the church.

In a letter that challenged the right of Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel to define a matter of morals, the group of New Orleans Catholics asked:

1. That Archbishop Rummel be requested "to take no further steps" toward integration of white and Negro Catholics pending a papal pronouncement, and,

2. That the papacy decree that segregation is not morally wrong and sinful as the archbishop has said it is.

The letter also listed types of segregation in regions of the nation and the world outside the South. Archbishop Rummel said he had

Racketeer Dio Balks, Probers Use Wiretap Recording in Inquiry

Falls Back On Fifth 140 Times

Curses, Slugs Photographer; Contempt Cited

By J. W. Davis

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—Senate rackets probers, unable to get gangster Johnny Dio to talk, today played into evidence a wire-tapped recording which represented Dio as saying: "I was out with Jimmy last night, Jimmy Hoffa."

Dio had just refused to say whether he had ever worked for or even knew Hoffa, who is now the Mid-west boss of the Teamsters Union and may be the union's next international president.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the recording which was sprung on Dio was made Feb. 8, 1955, by police in New York without any of those in the conversation knowing that anyone was listening in.

Today, as Dio listened to it, he was sour-faced and sweating.

BALKS ON IDENTITY

Asked whether that was his voice in the recording, Dio refused to answer. He invoked the Fifth Amendment and its protection against self-incrimination.

Asked whether he recognized anybody's voice, Dio again pleaded the Fifth.

The date of the recording was at a time when, the committee said, Dio had set hoodlums to work to oust Martin Lacey as president of the Teamsters Joint Council of New York City, and to replace Lacey with John O'Rourke, a man favored by Hoffa.

The committee has said that Hoffa sought O'Rourke's election in order to bulwark himself as a top man in union labor in the nation's largest city and eastern seaboard, as well as in the Midwest.

CONSULTED GANGSTER

Reporters were given a typed transcript of the recording, of which much was almost unintelligible. The committee said this showed that Dio discussed with gangster Tony (Ducks) Corallo his own talks with Hoffa about efforts to defeat Lacey.

It said Dio and Corallo were concerned as to whether Harold Gibbons, Teamsters boss in the St. Louis area, and Tom Flynn, president of the Eastern Conference of Teamsters, were "knocking" George Baldani, a Corallo associate.

SILENT WITNESS—Frank Easton, right, described as a henchman of labor racketeer Johnny Dio, and Easton's attorney, Leon Reich, are a study in silence at a senate rackets investigating committee hearing in Washington. Easton invoked the Fifth amendment 88 times in refusing to answer questions about alleged associations with Dio and whether he consulted Dio on his testimony. Easton is from Brooklyn. Special Session Suggested

Solons Deliberate Next Rights Moves

By Wilmet Hercher

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, Republican leader of the House, today advocated a special session of Congress if necessary to get a satisfactory civil rights bill.

He spoke as the Senate's historic civil rights measure lay on the speaker's table in the House and party leaders weighed their next moves.

Martin told reporters that if the bill in its final form fails to meet President Eisenhower specifications he will personally recommend that Eisenhower veto it and recall Congress in November to try again.

MAY ADJOURN SOON

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate's GOP leader, said it was too early to say whether a special civil rights session might be called. Congress may adjourn its present session by the end of this month.

Other senators said Knowland had told the Republican Policy Committee at a private meeting that a special session is a definite possibility if Eisenhower doesn't get the legislation he wants.

TWO ALTERNATIVES

The House could accept the Senate's amended version and risk a presidential veto. Eisenhower is opposed to the jury trial provision inserted by the Senate, considering it "most damaging to the entire federal judiciary."

Or the House could send the bill to a Senate-House Conference Committee for attempted adjustment of the differences between it and a much broader measure passed by the House June 18.

There were indications that Northern Democrats were anxious to save what they can of the first civil rights bill to get through the Senate in more than 60 years.

SEES COMPROMISE

Rep. Celler (D-NY), who would head the House conferees, said yesterday he thought both branches of Congress would accept a compromise limiting the jury trial amendment to voting rights cases.

As it now stands, the amendment would require jury trials in nearly all kinds of criminal contempt proceedings arising from efforts to enforce federal court injunctions. These proceedings, under present law, are generally handled by judges alone.

House Speaker Rayburn of Texas, leader of the Democratic majority, said he would have a statement tomorrow on what he thinks should be done with the legislation. The House may act after that.

Kathryn Kuhn, Robert Edwards Pledge Vows at College Chapel

Miss Kathryn Ann Kuhn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Kuhn, Ottumwa, and Pvt. Robert Joseph Edwards, son of Mrs. Woodrow Rader and Roy Edwards, Sedalia, pledged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. William Sampson at eight o'clock Thursday evening, July 18, in the Memorial Chapel at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg. The chancel steps were marked by a pair of large white baskets filled with white gladioli and pink majestic daisies. Two cathedral candelabra decorated with white satin bows and holding white tapered lights lighted the setting. Woodwardia fern served as a background for the ceremony. Pews were marked by bows of white satin and pink majestic daisies. Close friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony.

Mrs. A. Mendenhall, Ottumwa, at the organ, played the traditional wedding marches and a number of selections preceding the ceremony including, "Ave Maria," "I Love You Truly," "I Love Thee" and "Always." She accompanied Miss Myrna Geary, of Stover, as she sang "Walk Hand in Hand With Me," "Because" and at the close of the ceremony "The Lord's Prayer."

The tapers were lighted by Miss Etta Hilderbrand and Miss Joann Scott, Versailles, wearing identical waltz-length flaring princess dresses of Nile green dotted swiss over matching taffeta. The sleeveless bodice had a sweetheart neckline and the bouffant skirt featured back pleats. They wore wrist corsages of pink carnations and bandeaux of the same flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over taffeta, styled with a fitted bodice and long sleeves tapering to points over the hands. The portrait neckline was edged with lace scallops. The bouffant bell-shaped skirt featured an overskirt of scalloped lace which fell over voluminous skirts of fan pleated tulle and satin over hoops. Her double fingertip veil fell from a Juliet cap fashioned of lace and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid surrounded by baby's breath and a shower of satin streamers tied in love knots.

Miss Martha Lu Nelson, Kansas City, served as maid of honor. She wore a waltz length dress of pink dotted swiss over matching taffeta designed identical to the bridesmaids'. She carried a colonial nosegay of white carnations with cascading streamers and wore a bandeau of the same flowers.

The bridesmaids, Miss Sue Rader, Sedalia, sister of the bride, groom, and Miss Kathleen Holliday, Buncheon, cousin of the bride, wore Nile green dotted swiss dresses over matching taffeta styled like the maid of honor's. They wore bandeaux of pink carnations and carried colonial nosegays to match.

Little Miss Roxann Dunham, cousin of the groom, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Dunham Jr., Ottumwa, preceded the bride to the altar. Her dress was of pink dotted swiss over taffeta and she wore a circlet of pink rosebuds in her hair. She carried a small white basket from which she scattered pink rose petals.

Stephen Dunham, cousin of the groom, and son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Dunham, Ottumwa, carried the rings on a white satin pillow. He wore a gray jacket with navy trousers.

The groom was attended by James Young, Ottumwa, Richard Mills, Dresden, cousin of the groom, and Clyde Lee Allen, of Windsor. Ushers were Charles Alexander, Prairie Home, cousin of the bride, and Pat Dunham, Ottumwa, cousin of the groom.

Both mothers were attired in navy blue sheer dresses with white accessories and pink sweetheart rose corsages. Mrs. John Dunham, grandmother of the groom, and with whom he made his home, wore a light blue linen dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink sweetheart roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the basement of the chapel for 100 persons.

The bride's table covered with a white linen cutwork cloth over pink satin was centered with a three tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Sweetheart roses and fern encircled the cake and white tapered lights in crystal candelabra were on either side. After the cake was cut by the bride and groom it was served by Mrs. Jack Veulemans, Syracuse, cousin of the bride. She was assisted by Miss Judy Barthel, of Jefferson City, Miss Kay McAllister, Rich Hill, assisted by Miss Estella Lau, Hawaii, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Frank Alexander, Prairie Home, and Mrs. Glen Holliday, Buncheon, aunts of

Valerie Davis, H. C. Stevens Wed in Texas

The marriage of Miss Valerie Louise Davis and H. C. Stevens was solemnized Saturday afternoon, July 27, at St. John's American Lutheran Church in Port Arthur, Tex. The Rev. A. D. Klages performed the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked by summer flowers and greenery.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis, Port Arthur, Tex., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. A. R. Stevens, 416 West Fifth.

A program of traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. Earl Marsh, organist, and Mrs. Curtis Lacy, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a waltz length dress of white lace and organza. The bodice was covered with vertical rows of lace and was fashioned with short cap sleeves. The top of the billowing skirt was also trimmed with horizontal rows of lace. Her circlet veil of illusion was held in place by a lace tiara.

Mrs. A. Lee Johnson, matron of honor, wore a waltz length dress fashioned of royal blue cotton chiffon and featured a soft pleated skirt. She wore a matching headband.

TV Singer Says Men Have it Easy

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Men performers have it much easier than women on television, says Georgia Gibbs, the girl who has launched a delightful new program of songs on NBC-TV Monday evenings.

"A man just puts on a tux or a dark suit and goes before the cameras," she said. "But a woman has so many problems. What clothes will she wear? How will she fix her hair? Is her makeup right? It seems to me I spend three days a week fussing over my clothes for a 15-minute show."

Because of the care with which she selects her clothing ("I strive for simplicity"), viewers don't realize she is only five feet. But the home audience has discovered she can sing anything: ballads or blues, beguines or rock 'n' roll, and she can belt them or sing them sweet.

Georgia began singing in a Worcester, Mass., movie house when she was 11 years old, the youngest of four children of a widowed mother. Two years later she lied about her age and began touring with small bands, sometimes traveling 400 miles between one-night stands.

"Those were the important years, when a kid wants to be wanted," she recalls. "On the road it was lonelier than it can ever be again. Those years are lost. But singing the way I did then—sometimes 50 or 60 songs a night—that's real solid training."

When she felt she was ready for the big plunge, she came to New York and competed with 150 other singers for a vocal spot on the Jimmy Durante radio show, landing the job. After that she appeared with such stars as Danny Kaye, Eddie Cantor, Bob Hope and Milton Berle. Her big break came with her 13th recording, "Kiss of Fire," which sold over a million.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Thompson

Thompsons Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Thompson recently held open house in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary at their home on Route 2 from two until five in the afternoon.

Miss Mary Ritchey of Neison and Jesse Thompson were married July 7, 1907, in Kansas. They are the parents of four children: Mrs. Lawrence Koeller, 1017 South Marion, Eugene Thompson, Flagstaff, Ariz., Delbert Thompson, Smithton, and Homer Thompson, 16th and Marshall. They have six grandchildren.

The dining table was covered with a white lace cloth over yellow and held a four-tiered wedding cake decorated with yellow rosebuds and a wreath centered with the number 50. White and yellow candles were on either side and yellow gladioli and greenery completed the table appointments.

Mrs. Mildred Koeller and Mrs. Gene Thompson served the cake and punch assisted by Mrs. Homer Thompson, Mrs. Delbert Thompson, Mrs. Herbert Thompson, and Miss Delores Thompson.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thompson, Flagstaff, Ariz., Sister M. Giles, Del Norte, Colo., Sister M. Euphemia, Wichita, Kan., M-Sgt. Tomato canning season is here again and from all reports many of them are being put into fruit jars. We have had many questions as to the most satisfactory way to preserve them.

Tomatoes are easy to can and it's still the best way of preserving them.

Tomatoes do not freeze satisfactorily. They are hard to handle frozen and they soften and leak when thawed. They also fall apart quickly when cut.

You do not need a pressure canner to can tomatoes. A water bath is sufficient, using either the hot or cold pack method. The cold pack gives the best produce and it is easy and convenient.

Best tomatoes for canning are medium sized, plump, and meaty. Vine-ripened tomatoes are preferable. The flavor as well as the vitamin C content is better in tomatoes ripened on the vine than those pulled green and then ripened.

Ripe tomatoes keep best in the refrigerator where the cold stops the ripening process. Under-ripe tomatoes should be spread out in a cool room with temperature of 60-70 degrees, a basement is preferable. Light isn't needed to produce a good red color after tomatoes are picked. Ripening tomatoes on a sunny window sill in summer is a poor practice as too much sunlight prevents the development of a normal even color.

For canning, choose firm ripe tomatoes, taking care not to bruise them. To loosen the skin, dip tomatoes in boiling water for about 1/2 minute, then immediately dip in cold water. A wire basket or a thin cloth is convenient for holding tomatoes while dipping. Start peeling from blossom end. Then remove stem and any white or green parts.

Leave tomatoes whole or cut in halves or quarters, depending on how they are to be used after canning. Pack tomatoes in jars—pressing down enough to fill all spaces. They will form their own juice if pressed evenly and firmly. Fill to 1/2 inch of top and add 1/2 teaspoon salt to pints, one teaspoon to quarts for flavor. Remove air bubbles by running a knife down the side of the jar. Add more tomatoes if needed to fill jar to 1/2 inch of top. Wipe top of jar and adjust the lid. Process in a water bath (212 degrees), pint jars 35 minutes, quarts 45 minutes.

If you are short on jars or storage space and want your canned tomatoes to be more compact, use the hot pack method for canning. For this, cut the peeled tomatoes or place whole tomatoes in tomato juice and heat to a boil. Stir just enough to keep tomatoes from sticking. Pack boiling hot tomatoes in clean jars to 1/2 inch of top and add salt. Adjust lids and process pints and quarts for ten minutes in water bath.

Always remove jars from the canner as soon as the processing time is up. Cool top side up on wood, paper, or a dry cloth away from drafts. Clean and shine jars when cool, remove rims if two piece lids are used, label and store in a cool place.

A pound of tomatoes is about four medium sized tomatoes and it takes two to three pounds of tomatoes to can a quart. A bushel will yield 16 to 20 quarts.

Cold Cuts for Summer Meals

Menu planners seeking more time outdoors or away from the kitchen will find that serving "Cold Cuts" keep meal preparation to a minimum. Cold cuts offer much in the way of variety of flavor, colors and shapes. They are quick and easy to prepare as well as being thrifty, too.

Stop at the cold cut counter and learn more about cold cuts. Some varieties you will find are:

Salami: Highly seasoned, air-dried sausage, containing just the right amount of garlic. Wonderful for cold meat platters, sandwiches or sliced for use in salads and soups.

Liver Sausage: An excellent choice for the cold meat platter, for the delicately spiced and seasoned, and sometimes smoked, cooked sausage has pleasing texture — sliceable and spreadable — and most of all the important nutritional values of liver.

Bologna: This mild and pleasing combination of ground beef and pork is one of the most popular cold cuts. Often referred to as the "big brother to the frankfurter", bologna is equally useful on meat platters, in sandwiches, or pan-fried until edges curl as used for individual servings of meat.

Pickle and Pimiento Loaf: This colorful cooked meat specialty is mild in flavor and spiced with the addition of chopped pickles and pimientos.

Head Cheese: One of the many popular jellied meat loaves, this is sometimes called "souise". Delicious served chilled as the highlight on a cold meat tray.

Ham Sausage: Sometimes called "New England Style Sausage", this ham flavored cold cut is popular with everybody who enjoys the full flavor of smoked or cured pork.

Quick and easy — no waste — low cost: Summer meals require little time or effort to prepare and there is no waste. One pound will usually serve 4 to 6 people. Cost per serving has to be considered.

Because the dry or semi-dry sausages are more concentrated, spicy, and higher in food value than the soft ones, and because they require extra handling and time for drying, servings of these sausages are usually smaller and prices are higher — cost per serving is the shoppers guide.

Other Good Food Buys

Beef: Some increase in price on steaks. Forequarter cuts (Arm and Blade Roasts) are carrying about the same price tags and will be used by thrifty shoppers. Hamburger or ground beef is a good buy for huge appetites and slim pocket books.

Pork: Shoppers will look for ham, boston butt, rib end loin and picnic.

Lamb: For Sunday dinner or eating outside — a good choice—especially when rolled shoulder or patties are the menu headliners.

Broiler Fryers: Remain attractive in price and their popularity increases for fried chicken dinners, picnics and barbecues.

Fruit: Watermelon continues to roll to market and the price is quite reasonable. Green Apples for saucy and pies will be included in many shopping lists now as the price is attractive and the flavor adds so much to summertime eating. Bananas once again are offered at low price and lemons are just the flavor for beverages and seasonings as the mercury climbs. Peaches from Arkansas are coming into markets — prices are reasonable and quality is good.

Vegetables: Potatoes, penny-wise and nutrition-wise, is one of the best vegetable buys now. Tomatoes continue to increase in supply and many are furnished by local gardens. The flavor is excellent. Sweet Corn is quite reasonable and is quick and easy to prepare. Green Beans are tops in flavor as local areas are supplying some of the markets. Short trips to market retains their full flavor. Onions are most reasonable in price and can be used lone or with other vegetables.

Dairy: Milk and cheese are a must on shopping lists, especially for this season of the year when many eat light.

Eggs: Remain a thrifty buy and one of the important items to include regularly in menu plans.

Cold Meat Menu Ideas —

Cold meat platter; for sandwiches; combine with greens, eggs or potatoes for a salad; add to macaroni dishes; chop and use in scrambled eggs; broil with or without cheese; heat and serve in a tasty sauce; and add to scalloped potatoes or baked beans.

Film Actors Are Pikers In Earp Role

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ah, there's nothing like a busman's holiday—reading show biz tomes beside Balboa Bay.

Most adventurous of my literary excursions was "Wyatt Earp, Frontier Marshal" by Stuart Lake. I wanted to see how much Hugh O'Brian and Burt Lancaster act like the famed marshal. Conclusion: Messrs. O'Brian and Lancaster are pikers compared to the real Earp.

What a gunfighter the guy was, judging from his recollections! And what iron in his final wish! Shortly before he died, Earp told Lake: "the greatest consolation that I have in growing old is the hope that after I'm gone they'll grant me the peaceful obsequy I haven't been able to get in life."

Browsed through Bosley Crowther's fine reporting job of the rise and fall of MGM, "The Lion's Share." Crowther covers all the bases in good style, but he may be forced to add another chapter to cover the latest maneuverings in the studio's history.

There's no surer way to damage a studio than to have warfare waged in the New York office. The golden age of Hollywood came when the film creators had a free hand to do their work with imagination and daring. Trouble comes when the money men, with no knowledge of film making, interfere. Note the sad story of RKO, purchased by a tire firm and now idle.

"Charlie," Ben Hecht's affectionate bouquet to his writing partner, Charles MacArthur, proved highly readable. Hecht can still rattle out a story, letting the similes land where they may.

Two baby dolls dressed in yellow were used as decorations and the packages also carried out the yellow color scheme.

The evening was spent in playing bridge and canasta.

Achievement Day Comments

Some of you 4-H members may wonder why you did not get a blue ribbon at the county 4-H Achievement Day. Here are some of the judges comments on the agricultural exhibits.

Electricity—A few of the shades on the table lamps did not meet specifications. The specifications should be as follows: diameter at bottom 16 inches, at top 8 1/2 inches, ten inch depth, light toned but not highly transparent, white lining, bottom edge of shade 15 inches above desk or table.

Woodwork — In general, the woodwork exhibits were very good, but there were a few that did not go by the specifications in the woodwork book. The book also suggests that some articles be made from a hard type of wood, rather than pine.

Vegetables—Some brought only five or six onions and potatoes in a 10"x18" tray. When a tray size is given it should be full. Do not peel onions. Do not peel the outside leaves from a cabbage.

Goofus grew faster—fo a while. Then Rufus breezed ahead with more weight and a nice smooth coat. Then Rufus produced ten baby mice. Conclusion: Rufus is a she.

Safety Tips To Handyman Around Home

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

Now is the time for all good handy men to check on safety procedures before they leave the gardens to return to the fall-and-winter workshop havens.

Insurance companies, who are concerned about such things, have been busy compiling figures on home mishaps.

Estimates of the number of disabling accidents in the home each year range from 550,000 to 640,000. Whichever figure you take, it's still too high.

Many safety precautions are unknown to amateurs, disregarded by professionals. When you handle repair or building chores, consider the following suggestions:

Hand Tools. Believe it or not, a tool with a cutting edge that is sharp is a lot safer than a dull tool. After you have used a saw for a time, sharpen it and reset the teeth. If you can't do this job yourself, have it done by a professional. An improperly set saw will bind, making for poor work and potential accidents.

Keep wood bits sharp. A frequent cause of accidents is application of excessive pressure on a brace because of a dull bit.

Do not use a screw driver as a chisel. It will slip before it will cut the wood. Don't use a screw driver for a pry bar. The least that will happen is that you'll break the screw driver.

Don't, for obvious reasons, use a screw driver for work held in the hand. Keep the blade of a screw driver square and clean. Use it only for the size screw for which it was designed.

Never use a hammer with a cast iron head. Pick one that's made of forged steel. Check the handle carefully. It should be well-fitted, straight-grained and free from cracks.

Properly stored hand tools will remain sharp longer. Inspect a tool before you use it. Keep tools clean at all times.

Ladders. Largest group of accidents around the home involves falls from ladders and scaffolds. A ladder should rest on a firm, level surface. The foot of a ladder should be about one fourth of its length away from the wall.

Discard a ladder that has become worn and shaky. When using a stepladder, open it fully.

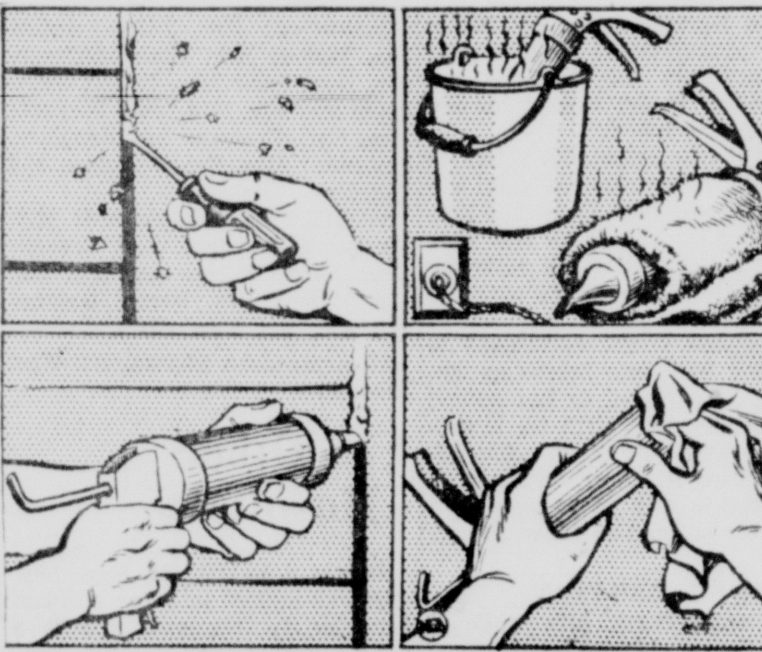

Climb a ladder slowly and work only within arm's length. Keep both hands free when climbing. Put your tools in a container and haul them up with a rope.

Don't work on a ladder on a windy day. If possible, have someone around to brace a ladder. Otherwise fasten a safety rope to the ladder, tie the other end to some projection on the wall.

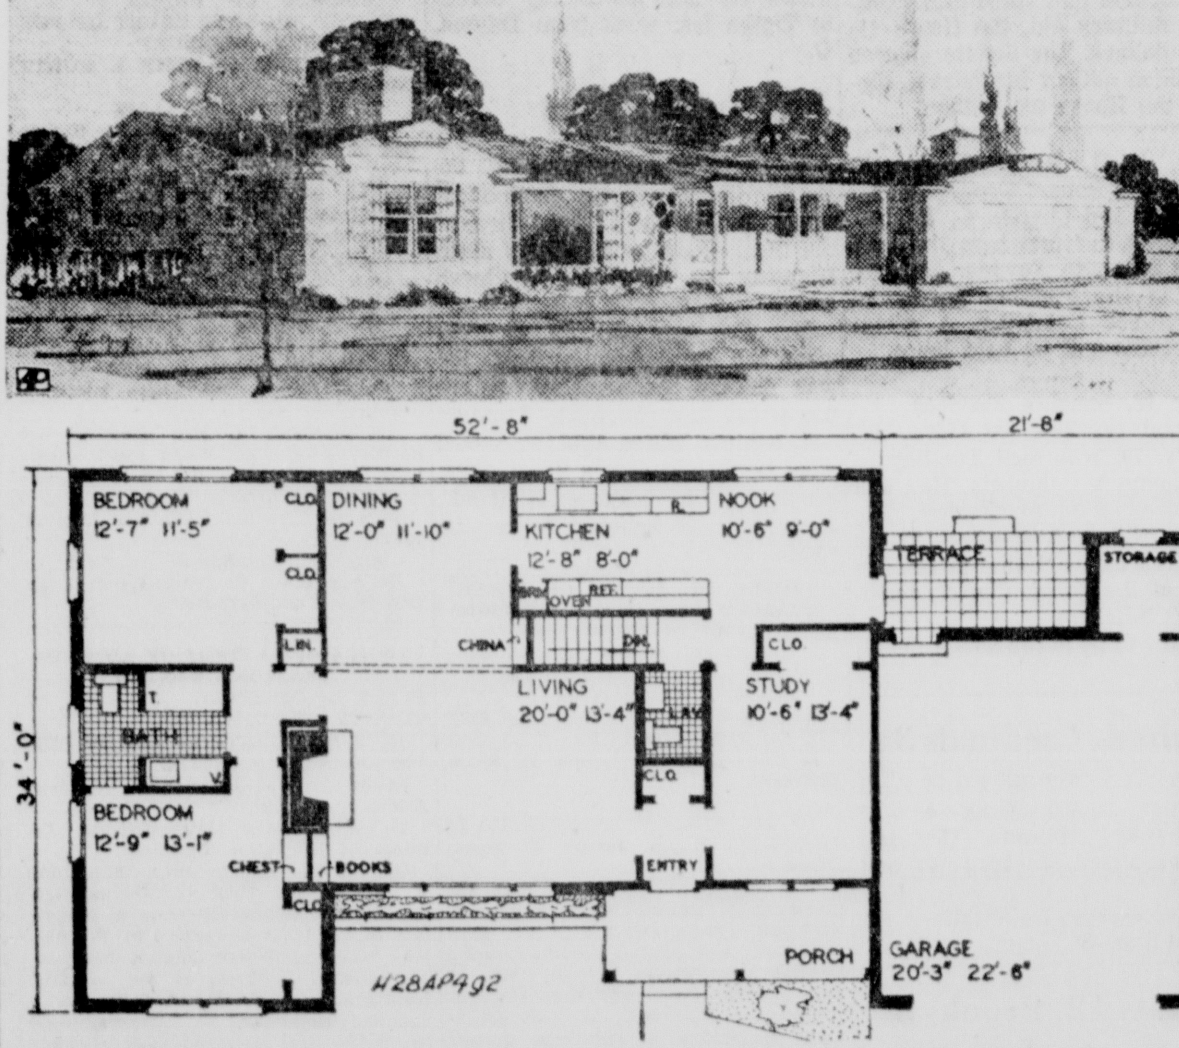

Power Tools. Read instructions carefully before attempting to use a new power tool. Ask the salesman for a demonstration at time of purchase. Make sure that power tools are equipped, wherever possible, with that type of equipment. It does NOT serve as a blanket guarantee of the merchandise.

Handyman Tips!

Clean thoroughly all cracks, top left, before shooting them full of calking compound, bottom left. Top right, runful of calking compound should be warmed before use in cold weather. Bottom right, clean gun thoroughly after use; dried compound in a gun is next to impossible to remove.

you nothing but boots from the homemaker. You now have two alternatives: beat up the wall until the law of averages makes a fastener stick; consult your hardware man for the proper fastening to use in plastered walls, dry wall paneled construction.

Manufacturers have placed in the market a number of devices to help you solve the problem. Among them are:

For light objects, such as small, framed pictures, there are special picture nails. Each device consists of a flat metal hook with a nail placed through its top at an angle. A nail driven into a wall at a 45-degree angle will hold if there isn't too much weight involved.

A favorite trick, but one that's not foolproof, is to stick a piece of cellulose tape over the spot where you plan to hang picture nail.

This cuts down the chances of cracking the plaster. Drilling a starter hole may help you to avoid cracking the plaster.

There are some objects you can't hang, such as curtain rod fixtures. These must be put up with screws. But ordinary screws will not hold in plaster. The thing to do first is to insert a shield into the wall.

Among shields or anchors you can choose are lead shields, plastic shields for light loads, or rawl plugs. Rawl plugs are fiber anchors that resemble short match sticks. In an emergency, you can use wood filler or a match stick.

All are installed in much the same fashion. First, a hole is drilled that's the diameter of the shield. The shield is placed in the hole and a screw is run into the shield.

The shield expands in the plaster and the screw cuts its threads in the shield rather than in the crumbling wall material.

For heavier objects, or where the wall is especially thin, use a toggle bolt or wall anchor. Each of these devices consists of a bolt and a threaded anchor piece.

A hole is first drilled in the wall and the entire bolt-and-anchor assembly inserted.

The toggle bolt has a split-wing nut, which folds for insertion and springs open behind the plaster or wallboard.

The second type, the wall anchor, spreads behind the wall, forming its own backing as you tighten it.

The advantage of the anchor over the toggle bolt is that the bolt can be removed and replaced, as the anchor piece remains in the wall. With use of the toggle bolt, the anchor piece drops off if the bolt is removed.

If you are hanging some really heavy object, such as a kitchen cabinets, it's best to use long screws that go through the wall into the studs.

The trick, of course is to locate the stud. One way to locate a stud is by simply pounding the wall with your fist.

When you reach a stud you'll get a dull sound, rather than the hollow echo you get from the rest of the wall. You can use a hammer if you like, but cover the head with cloth to prevent damaging the surface.

There are several stud-locating devices on the market. Each works on the principle that the magnetic part of the device will be attracted by the nails in the stud.

Return From East

The Warsaw Boy Scouts who attended the national Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., returned Sunday. Jack Pohl, Warsaw Scout leader, accompanied the boys, Bob Kennedy, Jimmy Smith and Larry Pohl on the two-week trip.

Among the many interesting sights they saw were the Queen Elizabeth, largest liner in the world, the United States liner, and the Mayflower, duplicate of the original ship.

Direct Approach Wins

NEW YORK (AP)—The direct approach won Producer David Merrick the eagerly sought Broadway rights to Peter Ustinov's London comedy hit "Romanoff and Juliet."

Ustinov, arriving here to star in the Gotham production due in the fall, recalled how Merrick walked into his dressing room during the tryout tour, handed him a business card and explained he wanted the overseas rights. Merrick, producer of "Fanny" and "The Matchmaker," said he would wait at a hotel until Ustinov had time to check up on him.

Completely disarmed, Ustinov instead asked Merrick to stay to supper and closed the deal then and there.

Arrest Second Man in Fatal Bludgeoning

ALTON, Ill. (AP)—Charles Edwin Fisher, 29, wanted in the fatal bludgeoning of a Salem, Mo., insurance man, was arrested today by Alton police.

Police here received a tip that Fisher had been seen and found him hiding in the basement of a vacant house. He was unarmed.

The house where Fisher was found is a short distance from a place where David Lawson Sproul, 28, of Chicago, also charged in the slaying, once lived. Sproul was arrested here a week ago.

They were charged with first degree murder in the killing of Kenneth B. Laughlin, 42-year-old father of four children, on July 9. Laughlin was found dead in a roadside ditch near Salem, his head crushed.

Fisher, a St. Louis resident and a fugitive from the St. Louis city workhouse, told authorities here he had just arrived from Chicago. He said he would waive extradition, and Missouri authorities were notified.

County officers at Salem said robbery apparently was the motive for the killing. Officers there said witnesses identified Fisher and Sproul as the two men seen talking to Laughlin at a Salem tavern shortly before he disappeared.

The Missouri sheriff said Sproul named his partner as the actual killer. Adams quoted Sproul as saying:

"The other man grabbed Laughlin by the neck and demanded money. He pushed Laughlin from the car, beat him with his fists and then hit him over the head with a fence post."

Proposes New Way to Select High Justices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Selection of U. S. Supreme Court justices by a committee composed of state judges from each of the 48 states was proposed today by Rep. Fisher (D-Tex.).

Offering legislation calling for a constitutional amendment to change the present method of filling court vacancies through presidential appointment, Fisher said his proposal should minimize political influences in choosing the court's membership.

"The President, no matter who he may be, is by the nature of his election, to some degree influenced by political obligations in making appointments to the court," Fisher said in a speech prepared for House delivery.

"There are certain religious requirements." There are sectional considerations. And not infrequently appointments have been made to reflect the ideology of the President—liberal or conservative—to fit preconceived viewpoints."

Fisher's resolution provides that the appointive committee should be composed of one judge from the highest court of each state. They would meet here 10 days after a Supreme Court vacancy occurred to make an appointment, which would be subject to confirmation by the Senate.

"I am convinced this method of filling vacancies will reduce to a minimum the political consideration that is inherent in the present method of making appointments," Fisher said.

MoPac Shops Prepare Coaches for Schools In Tornado-Hit Area

Students in Desloge, Mo., will have classrooms this fall, thanks to the aid of the Missouri Pacific Railroad.

Schools in the area were hit by tornadoes this spring and in the search for space to use until new ones could be built, the school board of Desloge hit upon the idea of using old railroad coaches.

Four coaches are being stripped of their useful railroad equipment in the Sedalia shops and will be sent to Desloge. They will be placed on a spur track there and the school board will place school desks in them. The coaches will be furnished at no cost to the school board.

Hopes Wane For Woman Peak Climber

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.

—Hopes waned today for the safety of an 88-year-old Colorado Springs woman mountain climber missing on Pike's Peak since Monday.

"I'm worried—I warned her not to try to climb it," a daughter said of frail, white-haired Mrs. Inestine B. Roberts, whose restless feet have taken her over many of the nation's highest peaks.

She was on her 15th climb alone to the top of 14,100-foot Pike's Peak when reported missing.

Dozens of friends, sheriff's deputies, mountain-trained troops from nearby Ft. Carson camped across the rugged northeast face of the mountain last night after the second day's search failed to turn up a trace of the aged woman.

More groups were expected for an expanded hunt today. Sheriff Earl Sullivan said the searchers won't leave "until we find her." Sullivan said as many as 100 persons may have joined in yesterday's search. Two Civil Air Patrol planes circled overhead.

They combed a 20-square-mile area filled with crevices and wooded ravines. Wild animals, including brown bear and bighorn sheep, roam the rugged terrain. Nighttime temperatures fall almost to freezing, with deep snow drifts still left on the summit.

The missing woman's daughter, Mrs. Marjorie R. Feldkirchner, said her mother wore only light clothing and carried a cloth coat when she left Colorado Springs Saturday.

Last year Mrs. Roberts, a native of Smithport, Pa., climbed mountains in Vermont's Green Mountain National Park.

Sites Selected

larger tract, of about 10 acres, will contain the actual missile launching installations. The other area, of about five acres, will contain radar equipment.

Rep. Scrivner (R-Kan.) said in Washington that public meetings would be held next week at cities near the sites to explain the projects to officials and the general public.

He said the meetings would be held Tuesday at Excelsior Springs, Wednesday at Leavenworth, Thursday at Pleasant Hill and Friday at Gardner.

In an earlier announcement, Col. Staub said the sites, to be manned 24-hours a day, would cost about $1,500,000 each.

Conferees

its approval tomorrow, the proposed economic development fund will be financed by a 500-million-dollar appropriation for this year plus authority for an additional 625 million in the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

The House originally voted to limit the economic loan fund authority to this year alone. The Senate voted 500 million for this year plus Treasury borrowing authority totaling 1½ billion dollars over the succeeding two years.

The House conferees refused to go along with any borrowing authority in agreeing to the second year. They stood firm on a provision which will require the administration to return to Congress next year to seek an appropriation under the 625-million-dollar authorization.

The compromise bill, while it grants the President a longer-range authority than he has ever had on economic loans, is still short of the three-year goal that he sought.

As worked out in conference, the bill carries $1,600,000,000 for military aid to allies this fiscal year and 750 million dollars for defense supports in the form of economic aid to help allied nations maintain their troops commitments.

The Senate had voted $1,800,000,000 in military aid, the House 1½ billion dollars. The Senate allowed 800 million dollars for defense supports, the House 600 million.

Bloess, I. H. Reed, Charles L. Hanley, Dr. Robert Gouge, George Chambers and Charles L. Wilson.

Following services here the body will be taken to Nevada, Mo., for burial in the Fleming family lot in Deepwood Cemetery. A graveside service will be held there.

Oliver W. Sanders Services

Funeral services for Oliver W. Sanders, 79, who died Tuesday at a rest home in California, Mo., will be held at 2 p. m. Friday. The services will be held either at the Williams Funeral Home in California or at the Shiloh Church northeast of California.

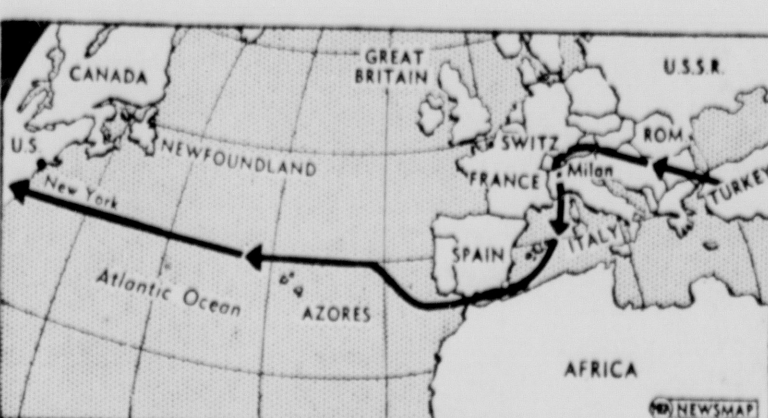

Burial will be in the Shiloh Cemetery.

DOPE TRAFFIC—Enough heroin to produce more than ten million shots was shipped from Milan, Italy, into the United States, narcotics agents of three nations report. The agents, from Switzerland, Turkey and Italy, say the heroin was produced in Turkey (see Newsmap), smuggled to Italy via Switzerland and refined in a Milan laboratory. It was then routed to America. The Milan price of the dope (about 154 pounds) would be about $15,000. But on the U.S. black market it would run into millions, officials said.

Other Fires

At 10:40 Thursday morning, the Pettis County fire department made a run to a grass fire at the farm of Junior Green on north Highway 65, near the Bothwell Lodge.

The fire was well in progress when the department arrived, but was quickly extinguished before there was any noticeable damage.

A witness stated that he heard what he thought was a firecracker, which could have started it. If not, a cigarette is believed to be the cause.
